Bring Your Own Device Security Policy Compliance Framework Rathika Palanisamy, Azah Anir Norman, Miss Laiha Mat Kiah, Tutut Herawan, 2025-05-13 Proliferation of Bring Your Own Device BYOD has instigated a widespread change fast outpacing the security strategies deployed by organizations The influx of these devices has created information security challenges within organizations further exacerbated with employees inconsistent adherence with BYOD security policy To prevent information security breaches compliance with BYOD security policy and procedures is vital This book aims to investigate the factors that determine employees BYOD security policy compliance by using mixed methods approach Security policy compliance factors BYOD practices and security risks were identified following a systematic review approach Building on Organizational Control Theory Security Culture and Social Cognitive Theory a research framework positing a set of plausible factors determining BYOD security policy compliance was developed Next with a purposive sample of eight information security experts from selected public sector organizations interviews and BYOD risk assessments analysis were performed to furnish in depth insights into BYOD risks its impact on organizations and recommend control measures to overcome them This led to the suggestion of four control measures to mitigate critical BYOD security risks such as Security Training and Awareness SETA policy top management commitment and technical countermeasures The control measures were mapped into the research framework to be tested in the following quantitative phase The proposed research framework was tested using survey results from 346 employees of three Critical National Information Infrastructure CNII agencies Using Partial Least Squares Structural Equation Modelling PLS SEM the framework s validity and reliability were evaluated and hypotheses were tested Findings show that perceived mandatoriness self efficacy and psychological ownership are influential in predicting employees BYOD security policy compliance Specification of security policy is associated with perceived mandatoriness while BYOD IT support and SETA are significant towards self efficacy Unexpectedly security culture has been found to have no significant relationship to BYOD security policy compliance Theoretical practical and methodological contributions were discussed and suggestions for future research were recommended The analysis led to a number of insightful findings that contribute to the literature and the management which are predominantly centered on traditional computing In view of the ever increasing BYOD threats to the security of government information it is imperative that IT managers establish and implement effective policies to protect vital information assets Consequently the findings of this study may benefit policymakers particularly in the public sector in their efforts to increase BYOD security policy compliance among employees

Rapidly Deployable Mobile Security Solutions for the Military: Navy Cyber Policies and Threats, Security, Mobile Devices, Bring Your Own Device (BYOD), Risk Management, Android Application Program U. S. Military,Department of Defense (DoD),U. S. Government,2018-02-25 The Navy has seen a significant increase in the presence of mobile and smart devices on its units due to advancements in technology and younger sailors desire to be connected at all times These devices create security threats due to their easily concealable size and their host of connectivity and image related features The insider threat intentional or not now includes the ability to take photos record conversations share data wirelessly and communicate official use and classified information all more easily than ever before Current enterprise solutions and associated policy does not address managing personal devices In fact management of personal devices is currently outside the Department of Defense DOD effort to control Personal Electronic Devices PED since the organization does not own the device and therefore has no way to mandate what must or must not be installed on them The current path to a bring your own device BYOD policy is unclear Security vulnerabilities with these devices have not been addressed in a uniform matter in policy or in practice It is with these statements in mind that we address how to take the first steps in developing feasible management of personal devices on naval units and potentially throughout the DOD In this study we provide a thorough evaluation of National Institute for Standards and Technology Defense Information Systems Agency and DOD publications to provide a starting point for adapting current policy and to guide the development of our application We then examine the feasibility of implementable software application solutions to hardware features that pose a threat to security Specific research addresses why each hardware feature on a mobile device is a security concern how it is controlled inside the Android Studio API and how we utilize these controls to lockdown and then unlock said hardware features through a simple proof of concept Android application Finally we provide examples of how future work can grow our application into a security manager controlled program to secure devices and find a path toward making BYOD a reality BYOD-Insure Melva Ratchford,2020 As organizations continue allowing employees to use their personal mobile devices to access the organizations networks and the corporate data a phenomenon called Bring Your Own Device or BYOD proper security controls need to be adopted not only to secure the corporate data but also to protect the organizations against possible litigation problems This dissertation puts forth design science research methods to develop a comprehensive security assessment model BYOD Insure to assess the security posture of an organization s BYOD environment BYOD Insure aims to identify security vulnerabilities in organizations that allow or are planning to adopt BYODs The main questions this research aims to answer are 1 In order to protect the enterprise and its corporate data how can an organization identify and mitigate the security risks associated with BYOD 2 How can a holistic approach to security strengthen the security posture of BYOD environments Abstract leaf iv Security and Auditing of Smart Devices Sajay Rai,Philip Chukwuma,Richard M. Cozart,2016-11-12 Most organizations have been caught off guard with the proliferation of smart devices The IT organization was comfortable supporting the Blackberry due to its ease of implementation and maintenance But the use of Android and iOS smart devices have created a maintenance nightmare not only for the IT organization but for the IT auditors as well This book will serve as a guide to IT and Audit professionals on how to manage secure and audit smart device It provides guidance on the handling of corporate devices and the Bring Your Own Devices BYOD smart devices Security Policy Opt-In Decisions in Bring-Your-Own-Device (Byod) - a Persuasion and Cognitive Elaboration Perspective Xue Yang,Xinwei Wang,Wei Thoo Yue,Choon Ling Sia,Xin Luo,2021 Bring Your Own Device BYOD has gained increased popularity in organizations but may engender information security concerns To address these concerns employees are expected to opt in and comply with organizational BYOD security policy This study investigates the factors that affect employees opt in decisions with BYOD security policy Drawing on the theoretical lenses of persuasion and cognitive elaboration we propose that employees cognitive elaborations of BYOD security policy could be affected by the valence of justification of the BYOD security policy the stringency of BYOD security measures and the sequence of the introduction of BYOD security policy in relation to employees use of personal devices to perform organizational tasks and such cognitive elaborations would in turn affect opt in decisions We conducted an experimental survey to test our propositions The results indicate that positive BYOD security policy justification framing and post task security policy exposure would lead to more positive cognitive elaboration decision to opt in and compliance with the BYOD security policy This research has significant implications for security management with respect to the design and implementation of BYOD security policy within an organization according to the nature of security policy and the task requirements Full paper available at <https://doi.org/10.1080/10919392.2019.1639913>
