Pink's Drive: The Surprising Truth About What Motivates Us](#) Paula Braun,2012-02-16 ABOUT THE BOOK In Drive Daniel Pink makes the case that it's time to rethink our business practices The contemporary view of motivation is that if you want people to perform better you give them contingent rewards or threaten them with punishments For many twenty first century tasks however contingent rewards such as monetary incentives do not work Incentives narrow focus and restrict possibility so they're only effective for tasks that have clear set of rules and obvious solutions Too many organizations make decisions based on management assumptions that are outdated and often do more harm than good The old way of thinking about motivation led to the collapse of the financial system in 2008 and had repercussions throughout the global economy The stakes are too high to keep operating under a flawed business as usual mentality MEET THE AUTHOR Paula Braun is a recovering bureaucrat On a whim she took a one year assignment in Iraq and followed it with another one year assignment in Afghanistan After that she needed a break so she semi retired and joined a bridge club To support her bridge habit she entered the glamorous world of freelance writing You can follow Paula on twitter paula_braun friend her on Facebook or read her lenses on Squidoo <http://www.squidoo.com/lensmasters/PaulaSquidoo> EXCERPT FROM THE BOOK The conventional view of human motivation is not only outdated it s ill prepared to handle how we organize what we do how we think about what we do and how we do what we do People are not robots programmed to maximize profits We all have internal motivators and seek self direction Continuing to operate out of the old conventional view hampers our economic progress Rewards and punishments often lead to the opposite of their intended aims They give us less of what we want by extinguishing intrinsic motivation diminishing performance crushing creativity and crowding out good behavior They also give us more of what we don t want by encouraging cheating shortcuts and unethical behavior becoming addictive and fostering short term thinking There are times when incentives and other if then type external rewards work but they often backfire because by design they limit our focus and foster short term thinking In general the less people feel controlled the better they will perform in the long run The Self-Propelled Advantage Joanne Calderwood,2012-10-01 A home education expert and mother of eight shares her experiences and insights into harnessing a child s natural desire to learn Joanne Calderwood has been a popular magazine columnist for several years and has become a popular speaker at home education conferences across the country Her self propelled philosophy of education has transformed lives across the nation and around the world In The Self Propelled Advantage Calderwood shares her wisdom experience and philosophy of education and parenting as borne out in the lives of her own exceptional children Informative and inspiring The Self Propelled Advantage is for any parent who places a high value on their children s education Detailing her methods for raising inquisitive diligent self motivated children Calderwood also shares valuable information on preparing for college entrance exams like the SAT and ACT Having taught one SAT perfect scorer one near perfect scorer and four students who have gone to college on full academic scholarships Calderwood has proven how successful her methods can be Seeing Red Cars Laura Goodrich,2011 Surely you ve experienced something like this you buy a red car and suddenly red cars appear everywhere Why Because you re focusing on red cars and you get more of whatever you focus on But much of the time consciously and unconsciously we dwell on what we don t want and that s what we get Drawing on the latest scientific research Laura Goodrich shows you how to stop fixating on negatives and rewire your brain to focus on positive outcomes Unique and practical exercises including a free online toolkit and dozens of enlightening real life stories help you identify what you truly want so that it drives everything you do And Goodrich shows how Seeing Red Cars can build organizational cultures in which employees are playing to their passions and strengths focusing on what they want and achieving breakthrough results
