Tullis, 2017-03-01 Comics and childhood have had a richly intertwined history for nearly a century From Richard Outcault's Yellow Kid Winsor McCay's Little Nemo and Harold Gray's Little Orphan Annie to Herg's Tintin Belgium Jos Escobar's Zipi and Zape Spain and Wilhelm Busch's Max and Moritz Germany iconic child characters have given both kids and adults not only hours of entertainment but also an important vehicle for exploring children's lives and the sometimes challenging realities that surround them Bringing together comic studies and childhood studies this pioneering collection of essays provides the first wide-ranging account of how children and childhood as well as the larger cultural forces behind their representations have been depicted in comics from the 1930s to the present The authors address issues such as how comics reflect a spectrum of cultural values concerning children sometimes even resisting dominant cultural constructions of childhood how sensitive social issues such as racial discrimination or the construction and enforcement of gender roles can be explored in comics through the use of child characters and the ways in which comics use children as metaphors for other issues or concerns Specific topics discussed in the book include diversity and inclusiveness in Little Audrey comics of the 1950s and 1960s the fetishization of adolescent girls in Japanese manga the use of children to build national unity in Finnish wartime comics and how the animal child hybrids in Sweet Tooth act as a metaphor for commodification

Perfect Copies
Shiamin Kwa,2023-01-13 Analyzing the way that recent works of graphic narrative use the comics form to engage with the problem of reproduction Shiamin Kwa's Perfect Copies reminds us that the mode of production and the manner in which we perceive comics are often quite similar to the stories they tell Perfect Copies considers the dual notions of reproduction mechanical as well as biological and explores how comics are works of reproduction that embed questions about the nature of reproduction itself Through close readings of the comics My Favorite Thing Is Monsters by Emil Ferris The Black Project by Gareth Brookes The Generous Bosom series by Conor Stechschulte Sabrina by Nick Drnaso and Panther by Brecht Evens Perfect Copies shows how these comics makers push the limits of different ideas of reproduction in strikingly different ways Kwa suggests that reading and thinking about books like these that push us to engage with these complicated questions teaches us how to become better readers

The Strange Jérôme Ruillier, 2021-06-10 The Strange follows an unnamed undocumented immigrant who tries to forge a new life in a Western country where he doesn't speak the language Jérôme Ruillier's story is deftly told through myriad viewpoints as each narrator recounts a situation in which they crossed paths with the newly arrived foreigner. Many of the people he meets are suspicious of his unfamiliar background or of the unusual language they do not understand. By employing this third person narrative structure, Ruillier masterfully portrays the complex plight of immigrants and the vulnerability of being undocumented. The Strange shows one person's struggle to adapt while dealing with the often brutal and unforgiving attitudes of the employers, neighbors, and strangers who populate this new land. Ruillier employs a bold visual approach of colored pencil drawings complemented by a stark limited palette of red, orange, and green backgrounds. Its beautiful simplicity represents the almost child-like hope and promise that is often associated with new beginnings. But as Ruillier implicitly suggests, it's a promise that can shatter at a moment's notice when the threat of being deported is a daily and terrifying reality. The Strange has been translated from the French by Helge Dascher. Dascher has been translating graphic novels from French and German to English for over twenty years. A contributor to Drawn Quarterly since the early days, her translations include acclaimed titles such as the Aya series by Marguerite Abouet and Clément Oubrerie, Hostage by Guy Delisle, and Beautiful Darkness by Fabien Vehlmann and Kerascoët. With a background in art history and history, she also translates books and exhibitions for museums in North America and Europe. She lives in Montreal.

Aurore, mais aussi l'Orgueilleuse, la RGRESSIVE, l'Aventurière, le Prince masqué. Les saisons passent et Aurore, la presque princesse, s'agite toujours pour son petit monde qu'elle voudrait merveilleux pour accorder cette improbable assemblée la nature et aux bêtes qui les entourent.
