

SITE VISIT REPORT

Grace Academy, Punalur, Kollam

AIM

To identify problems in roofing system and other parts of building.

OBSERVATIONS : The following observations were made in the site visit :

1. Compound Wall : The span of compound wall constructed was roughly 6m-8m along the road.

2. Front Roofing : The major problem was with the water leakage from the valley rafter and gutter.

- Gutter : The gutter was 2" wide and 3" in depth. It was damaged from two sides and filled with cement and tile pieces. Due to the heavy weight of pieces, cave got rushed and dislocated from two sides.

- Roof Ceiling : The end point of GI sheet and the beginning of ceiling tile layer creates a junction where leakage problem is occurring. The leakage is due to gap between ceiling tiles and GI sheet.

Singh, 2004-11-18 Peer to peer P2P computing is currently attracting enormous public attention spurred by the popularity of file sharing systems such as Napster Gnutella Morpheus Kaza and several others In P2P systems a very large number of autonomous computing nodes the peers rely on each other for services P2P networks are emerging as a new distributed computing paradigm because of their potential to harness the computing power and the storage capacity of the hosts composing the network and because they realize a completely open decentralized environment where everybody can join in autonomously. Although researchers working on distributed computing multiagent systems databases and networks have been using similar concepts for a long time it is only recently that papers motivated by the current P2P paradigm have started appearing in high quality conferences and workshops. In particular research on agent systems appears to be most relevant because multiagent systems have always been thought of as networks of autonomous peers since their inception. Agents which can be superimposed on the P2P architecture embody the description of task environments decision support capabilities social behaviors trust and reputation and interaction protocols among peers. The emphasis on decentralization autonomy ease and speed of growth that gives P2P its advantages also leads to significant potential problems. Most prominent among these are coordination the ability of an agent to make decisions on its own actions in the context of activities of other agents and scalability the value of the P2P systems in how well they self organize so as to scale along several dimensions including complexity heterogeneity of peers robustness traffic redistribution etc. This book brings together an introduction three invited articles and revised versions of the papers presented at the Second International Workshop on Agents and Peer to Peer Computing AP2PC 2003 held in Melbourne Australia July 2003.

Guide for Conducting Forensic Investigations of Highway Pavements (with supplemental material on CD-ROM) Gonzalo R. Rada, 2013. TRB's National Cooperative Highway Research Program Report 747. Guide for Conducting Forensic Investigations of Highway Pavements explores a process for conducting forensic investigations of pavements that is designed to help understand the reasons behind premature failures or exceptionally good performance. The process also allows for the collection of data for use in developing or calibrating performance prediction models. The report includes example forms and checklists for use during the conduct of an investigation. These forms can be modified to suit the particular requirements and procedures for the agency. The example forms are included with the print version of the report in CD ROM format. Publisher description: Crystal Reports XI: The Complete Reference George Peck, 2005-10-19.
