Answer to Question 1:

a) Food processing and preservation refers to the techniques and methods used to transform raw food materials into processed foods with longer shelf life and improved safety. These methods include physical, chemical, and biological techniques to alter the properties of food products.

b) Two common methods of food processing and preservation are canning and freezing. Canning involves heating food in a sealed container to sterilize and preserve it. Freezing involves reducing the temperature of food to below its freezing point, which slows down microbial activity and preserves the quality of the food.
