Question: What is the effect of population growth?

Escherichia coli

Bacillus subtilis

What do you think? What is the effect of population growth?

What is the effect of population growth?

What does population growth do? It increases the number of individuals in a population. This leads to a higher density of individuals, which can affect the availability of resources and the intensity of competition. In a simple model, population growth is represented by the equation $\frac{dN}{dt} = rN$, where N is the number of individuals and r is the intrinsic growth rate. This equation shows that the rate of change in population size is proportional to the current population size. However, in a more complex model, the growth rate r can be affected by factors such as resource availability and competition. For example, the logistic growth model introduces a carrying capacity K , leading to the equation $\frac{dN}{dt} = rN \left(1 - \frac{N}{K}\right)$. This model shows that population growth is limited by the carrying capacity of the environment. In a more complex model, the growth rate r can be affected by factors such as resource availability and competition. For example, the logistic growth model introduces a carrying capacity K , leading to the equation $\frac{dN}{dt} = rN \left(1 - \frac{N}{K}\right)$. This model shows that population growth is limited by the carrying capacity of the environment.
