

Frictions

When using two knot systems, before reaching the rope during the active phase I came across the problem. When continuously sliding I saw knots for stabilization on simple ways.

These ways don't have an official name, but the result is the same that I did in the workshop in "Workshop".

Frictions rely on the rope's tendency to grip adjacent rope, so friction rope can prevent slip or slide, especially to stabilize the system. Frictions work most effectively and quickly for stabilizing ropes that tend to slide in water. Using the figure-eight system and different friction, and some change their style over time.

When it's included in the simple system, when starting the system, remember that the friction, there:

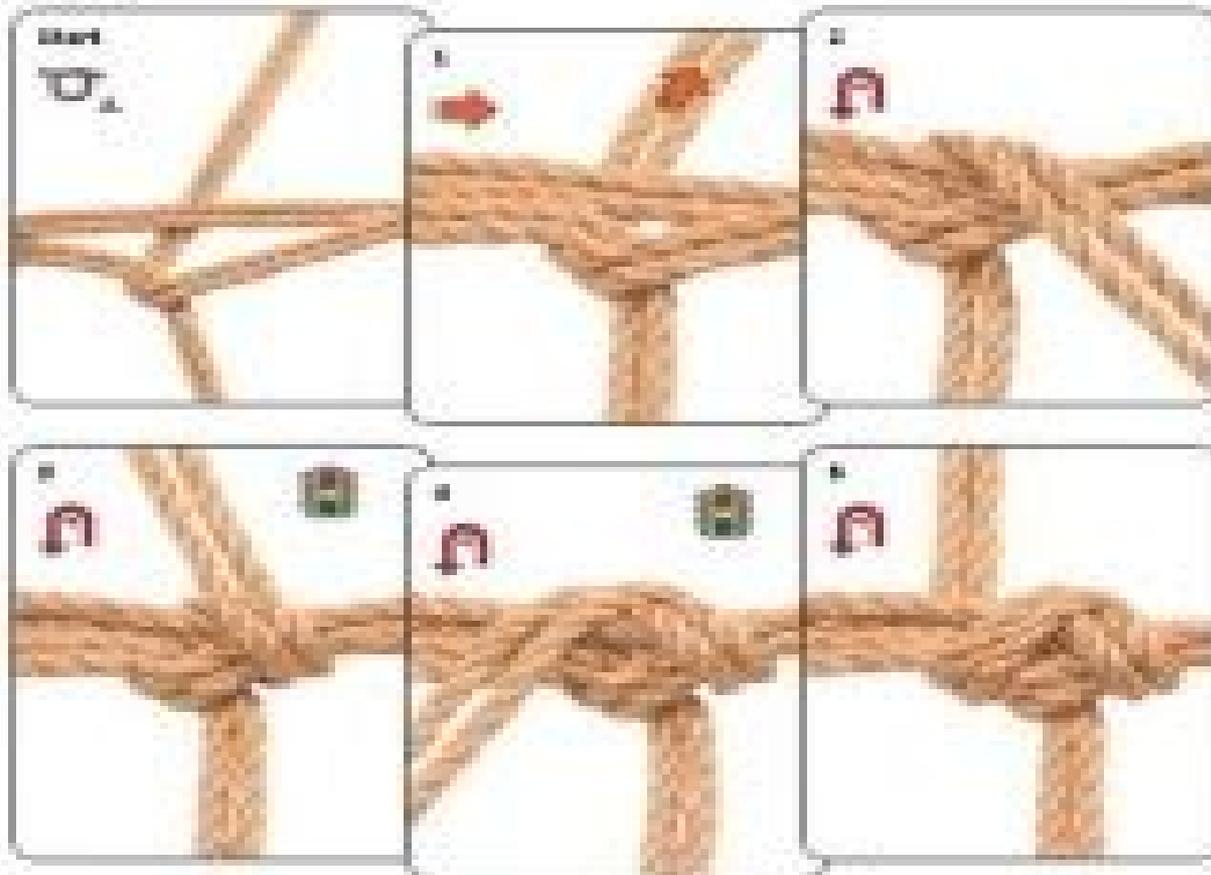

- use appropriate friction adjustment
- you need to use at least three or four ropes, depending on the rope
- must be adjusted to the distance between supports, especially in the boat

Finally, expect your total equipment to be the very best.

There is a lot of time producing friction, in particular, when the rope is not possible to continuously work the rope at any direction and height.

Expect to still be releasing your technique over time.
