Changing Places David Lodge:

Changing Places David Lodge, 2025-11-20 The Campus Trilogy David Lodge, 2011-10-04 A trio of dazzling novels in a comic mode that the author has now made completely his own a cause for celebration The New York Times Book Review David Lodge's three delightfully sophisticated campus novels now gathered together in one volume expose the world of academia at its best and its worst In Changing Places we meet Philip Swallow British lecturer in English at the University of Rummidge and the flamboyant American Morris Zapp of Euphoric State University who participate in a professorial exchange program at the close of the tumultuous sixties Ten years later in Small World older but not noticeably wiser they are let loose on the international conference circuit along with a memorable and somewhat oversexed cast of dozens And in Nice Work the leftist feminist Dr Robyn Penrose at Rummidge University is assigned to shadow the director of a local engineering firm sparking a collision of ideologies and lifestyles that seems unlikely to foster anything other than mutual antipathy

Changing Places Ralph Stuart Evans, 1990 Waiting for the End Earl G. Ingersoll, 2007 Waiting for the End examines two dozen contemporary novels within the context of a half century of theorizing about the function of ending in narrative That theorizing about ending generated a powerful dynamic a quarter century ago with the advent of feminist criticism of masculinist readings of the role played by ending in fiction Feminists such as Theresa de Lauretis in 1984 and more famously Susan Winnett in her 1991 PMLA essay Coming Unstrung were leading voices in a swelling chorus of theorist pointing out the masculinist bias of ending in narrative With the entry of feminist readings of ending it became inevitable that criticism of fiction would become gendered through the recognition of difference transcending a simple binary of female male to establish a spectrum of masculine to feminine endings regardless of the sex of the writer Accordingly Waiting for the End examines pairs of novels one pair by Margaret Atwood and one by Ian McEwan to demonstrate how a writer can offer endings at either end of the gender spectrum
