Monkey Grip Helen Garner:

Monkey Grip Helen Garner, 2018-10-29 Helen Garner's gritty lyrical first novel divided the critics on its publication in 1977. Today Monkey Grip is regarded as a masterpiece, the novel that shines a light on a time and a place and a way of living never before presented in Australian literature: communal households, music, friendships, children, love, drugs, and sex. When Nora falls in love with Javo, she is caught in the web of his addiction, and as he moves between loving her and leaving, between his need for her and promises broken, Nora's life becomes an intense dance of loving and trying to let go. Helen Garner is one of Australia's finest authors. In 2006 she received the inaugural Melbourne Prize for Literature, and in 2016 she won the prestigious Windham-Campbell Prize for non-fiction. Her novels include Monkey Grip, The Children's Bach, Cosmo, Cosmolino, and The Spare Room. I rolled and rolled in the water, deafening my ears while I thought of and discarded all the reasons why I shouldn't go. I popped up hanging on to the rail, hair streaming on my neck. OK, I'll come. Javo was looking at me. So afterwards it is possible to see the beginning of things, the point at which you had already plunged in while at the time you thought you were only testing the water with your toe. Garner is a natural storyteller. James Wood, New Yorker. Her use of language is sublime. Scotsman. This is the power of Garner's writing. She drills into experience and comes up with such clean, precise distillations of life: once you read them, they enter into you. Successive generations of writers have felt the keen influence of her work, and for this reason Garner has become part of us all, Australian. Its embattled characters are so real that by the last page you feel not just that you have read a magnificent novel but that you have experienced life itself. The Times. On The Spare Room. What Garner offers in these novels is an alternative to the cloying metafiction of the late 20th century and the washed-out realism of the 21st. They are undeniably of their time: the 1970s commitment to the liberating possibilities of sex, drugs, and communal living in Monkey Grip; the hangover nursed in the 1980s in The Children's Bach; but they also belong to a literary epoch we think of as long gone, as they earnestly strive to resurrect a modernist art of estrangement. London Review of Books. APAIS 1992: Australian public affairs information service, The Cambridge Companion to the Australian Novel. Nicholas Birns, Louis Klee, 2023-03-02. The Cambridge Companion to the Australian Novel provides a clear, lively, and accessible account of the novel in Australia. The chapters of this book survey significant issues and developments in the Australian novel, offer historical and conceptual frameworks, and demonstrate what reading an Australian novel looks like in practice. The book begins with novels by literary visitors to Australia and concludes with those by refugees. In between, the reader encounters the Australian novel in its splendid contradictoriness: from nineteenth-century settler fiction by women writers through to literary images of the Anthropocene, from sexuality in the novels of Patrick White to Waanyi writer Alexis Wright's call for a sovereign First Nations literature. This book is an invitation to students, instructors, and researchers alike to expand and broaden their knowledge of the complex histories and crucial present of the Australian novel. Everyday Revolutions. Michelle Arrow, Angela Woollacott, 2019-08-30. The 1970s was a decade when matters previously considered private and personal became public and political. These shifts not only transformed Australian politics they engendered far reaching cultural and social changes. Feminists challenged man made norms and sought to recover lost histories of female achievement and cultural endeavour. They made films, picked up spanners and established printing presses. The notion that the personal was political began to transform long held ideas about masculinity and femininity both in public and private life. In the spaces between official discourses and everyday experience many sought to revolutionise the lives of Australian men and women. Everyday Revolutions brings together new research on the cultural and social impact of the feminist and sexual revolutions of the 1970s in Australia. Gay Liberation and Women's Liberation movements erupted challenging almost every aspect of Australian life. The pill became widely available and sexuality was both celebrated and flaunted. Campaigns to decriminalise abortion and homosexuality emerged across the country. Activists set up women's refuges, rape crisis centres and counselling services. Governments responded to new demands for representation and rights appointing women's advisors and funding new services. Everyday Revolutions is unique in its focus not on the activist or legislative achievements of the women's and gay and lesbian movements but on their cultural and social dimensions. It is a diverse and rich collection of essays that reminds us that women's and gay liberation were revolutionary movements.

Australian Mothering Carla Pascoe Leahy, Petra Bueskens, 2020-01-28. This collection defines the field of maternal studies in Australia for the first time. Leading motherhood researchers explore how mothering has evolved across Australian history as well as the joys and challenges of being a mother today. The contributors cover pregnancy, birth, relationships, childcare, domestic violence, time use, work, welfare policy and psychology from a diverse range of maternal perspectives. Utilising a matricentric feminist framework Australian Mothering foregrounds the experiences, emotions and perspectives of mothers to better understand how Australian motherhood has developed historically and contemporaneously. Drawing upon their combined sociological and historical expertise Bueskens and Pascoe Leahy have carefully curated a collection that presents compelling research on past and present perspectives on maternity in Australia which will be relevant to researchers, advocates and policy makers interested in the changing role of mothers in Australian society.

Monkey grip. [DVD]., How to End a Story Helen Garner, 2025-03-11. For the first time ever collected here are all three volumes of the diaries of Helen Garner inviting readers into the world behind the novels and nonfiction of a literary force. The name Helen Garner commands near universal acclaim. A master of many literary forms Garner is best known for her frank, unsparing and intricate portraits of ordinary people in difficult times. New York Times. But the inspiration for it all was her extensive collection of diaries, fastidiously kept, intricately written and delightfully dishy, unspooling the inner lives of her insular world in bohemian Melbourne. Now for the first time all three volumes of Garner's inimitable diaries are collected into one book. Spanning more than two decades, each finely etched volume reveals Garner like never before: a fledgling author publishing her lightning rod debut novel in the late 70s, in the throes of a consuming affair in the late 80s and clinging to a disintegrating marriage in the late 90s. And all the while they bear witness to one of the world's great writers hard at work Devastatingly honest and disarmingly funny How to End a Story is a portrait of loss betrayal and the sheer force of a woman's anger but also of resilience quotidian moments of joy the immutable ties of motherhood and the regenerative power of a room of one's own
