J. P. Gumbert, 2016 This work represents an important contribution to the history of medieval books providing full scholarly description and discussion of an otherwise very little known category of written artefact in quasi book form but one that the 60 odd identified examples suggest was relatively common This volume will be of interest not only to medieval book historians and codicologists but also to historians of medieval science and of the liturgy and of medieval written culture and cultural practice more broadly Although a large proportion of the volume takes the form of a catalogue the information and explanatory material presented in the introduction to the catalogue as a whole and to each of the sections into which the catalogue is divided give the volume the coherence and value of a historical and codicological survey of this form of artefact the kind of texts they contained and how and by whom they were made and used The way in which the catalogue is structured in chronological and thematic sections each with their own introduction also contributes to enhance this aspect of the volume
