Designing Organizational Systems Richard Baskerville, Marco De Marco, Paolo Spagnoletti, 2012-10-01 This book is dedicated to the memory of Professor Alessandro Sandro D Atri who passed away in April 2011. Professor D Atri started his career as a brilliant scholar interested in theoretical computer science databases and more generally information processing systems. He journeyed far in various applications such as human computer interaction human factors ultimately arriving at business information systems and business organisation after more than 20 years of research based on problem solving. Professor D Atri pursued the development of an interdisciplinary culture in which social sciences systems design and human sciences are mutually integrated. Rather than retrospection this book is aimed to advance in these directions and to stimulate a debate about the potential of design research in the field of information systems and organisation studies with an interdisciplinary approach. Each chapter has been selected by the Editorial Board following a double blind peer review process. Handbook of Formal Languages Grzegorz Rozenberg, Arto Salomaa, 2012-12-06 The need for a comprehensive survey type exposition on formal languages and related mainstream areas of computer science has been evident for some years. In the early 1970s when the book Formal Languages by the second mentioned editor appeared it was still quite feasible to write a comprehensive book with that title and include also topics of current research interest. This would not be possible anymore. A standard sized book on formal languages would either have to stay on a fairly low level or else be specialized and restricted.
