Modernism and the Theater of Censorship Adam Parkes,1996-02-22 Adam Parkes investigates the literary and cultural implications of the censorship encountered by several modern novelists in the early twentieth century He situates modernism in the context of this censorship examining the relations between such authors as D H Lawrence James Joyce Radclyffe Hall and Virginia Woolf and the public controversies generated by their fictional explorations of modern sexual themes These authors located obscenity at the level of stylistic and formal experiment The Rainbow Lady Chatterley s Lover Ulysses and Orlando dramatized problems of sexuality and expression in ways that subverted the moral political and aesthetic premises on which their censors operated In showing how modernism evolved within a culture of censorship Modernism and the Theater of Censorship suggests that modern novelists while shaped by their culture attempted to reshape it

Radford,Suzanne Hobson,2022-11-24 New Readings of Elizabeth von Arnim The Unexpected Modernist consolidates the growing field of Elizabeth von Arnim studies and points to new trajectories for further research Bringing together recognised and emerging scholarly voices and featuring previously unseen archival materials this volume introduces key contexts for reading von Arnim's work at an important point in her re-appraisal as a writer. Its eleven chapters highlight critical debates related to modernism, feminism and the middlebrow and explore new contexts such as fashion and material culture, medical humanities, ageing studies, music and the visual arts. By focusing on neglected novels from von Arnim's oeuvre and examining better-known work from new perspectives, the volume paves the way for the next decade of von Arnim studies and beyond.

The Outside Thing Hannah Roche, 2019-05-28. In a lecture delivered before the University of Oxford's Anglo-French Society in 1936, Gertrude Stein described romance as the outside thing that is always a thing to be felt inside. Hannah Roche takes Stein's definition as a principle for the reinterpretation of three major modernist lesbian writers, showing how literary and affective romance played a crucial yet overlooked role in the works of Stein, Radclyffe Hall and Djuna Barnes. The Outside Thing offers original readings of both canonical and peripheral texts, including Stein's first novel Q.E.D. Things As They Are, Hall's Adam's Breed and The Well of Loneliness, and Barnes's early writing alongside Nightwood. Is there an inside space for lesbian writing, or must it always seek refuge elsewhere? Crossing established lines of demarcation between the in and the out, the real and the romantic, and the Victorian and the modernist, The Outside Thing presents romance as a heterosexual plot upon which lesbian writers willfully set up camp. These writers boldly adopted and adapted the romance genre, Roche argues, as a means of staking a queer claim on a heteronormative institution. Refusing to submit or surrender to the straight traditions of the romance plot, they turned the rules to their advantage. Drawing upon extensive archival research, The Outside Thing is a significant rethinking of the interconnections between queer writing, lesbian living and literary modernism.

The Well of Loneliness Radclyffe Hall, 2024.
