Autonomy In Foreign Language Learning And Teaching A:

Autonomy and Foreign Language Learning Henri Holec,1981 Autonomy, Agency and Identity in Foreign Language Learning and Teaching Jing Huang,2013 This book offers readers a basic grounding in autonomy and related concepts of agency and identity in foreign language education The ethnographic study explores how autonomy develops within the long term process of EFL and TEFL learning in a Chinese social and institutional context Through examining the general characteristics and patterns within the long term development of autonomy among the students the enquiry puts under close scrutiny a number of fundamental issues in autonomy research and practice such as reactive autonomy in relation to proactive autonomy personal autonomy in relation to learner autonomy other control in relation to self control in the multi control model of autonomy and also issues of autonomy in the transition from foreign language learning to foreign language teaching The study presents the more describable concepts of identity and agency to investigate the development of autonomy in foreign language learning and teaching and explores their complex interrelationships The book finally highlights major contributions and limitations of the investigation and provides implications and suggestions for theory pedagogy and research

Autonomy in Second Language Learning: Managing the Resources Mirosław Pawlak,Anna Mystkowska-Wiertelak,Jakub Bielak,2016-12-28 The present volume brings together papers devoted to the role of learner and teacher autonomy in the process of second and foreign language learning which have been contributed by scholars from Poland and abroad The book has been divided into three parts in accordance with the topics that the individual contributions touch upon The first part includes papers dealing with different ways in which learner autonomy can be fostered and evaluated The papers contained in Part Two are connected with the role of language learning strategies in the development of learner independence Finally Chapter Three focuses on developing teacher autonomy which in the opinion of many specialists is indispensable if learner autonomy is to be promoted Thanks to its wide ranging focus this edited collection will be of interest not only to second language learning specialists interested in the role of learner autonomy but also to undergraduate graduate and postgraduate students working on their BA MA and PhD theses as well as practitioners wishing to promote learner independence in their classrooms

Autonomy and Foreign Language Learning in a Virtual Learning Environment Miranda Hamilton,2013-04-11 Digitalised learning with its promise of autonomy enhanced learner choice independence and freedom is an intuitive and appealing construct but closer examination reveals it to be a rather simplistic proposition raising the following questions What do we mean by autonomy What are we implying about the role of the teacher the classroom and interaction between learners What do we understand about the impact of technology on the ecology of the learning environment This book describes the use of a Virtual Learning Environment VLE by a group of advanced English language learners in Mexico comparing what students thought and what they did in response to the technology The theoretical aim of the book is to work towards the construction of a theory of the development of autonomy and virtual learning in an EFL context Enhanced understanding about the relationship between autonomy and technology has the potential to inform academics software designers materials writers teacher educators and teachers and to help learners in their quest to acquire a foreign language

Enhancing Autonomy in Language Education Manuel Jiménez Raya, Flávia Vieira, 2015-04-24 The book explores the idea that pedagogy for autonomy requires the integration of teacher and learner development and can be enhanced through a case based approach in teacher education A case based approach values experiential professional learning and expands professional competences necessary to promote autonomy in schools developing a critical view of language education managing local constraints so as to open up spaces for manoeuvre centring teaching on learning interacting with others in the professional community Two strategies to implement the approach are presented and illustrated The first one involves teachers in designing implementing and evaluating experiences of pedagogy for autonomy which are the basis for writing professional narratives and building a case portfolio The second draws on teachers pedagogical experience as the basis for the construction of case materials where experiential elements are combined with theoretical input and reflective tasks so that the teachers who use those materials can reflect about and explore their own practice

Autonomous Language Learning with Technology Chun Lai, 2017-06-29 This book looks beyond the classroom and focuses on out of class autonomous use of technology for language learning discussing the theoretical frameworks key findings and critical issues The proliferation of digital language learning resources and tools is forcing language education into an era of unprecedented change The book will stimulate discussions on how to support language learners to construct quality autonomous technology mediated out of class learning experience outside the classroom and raise greater awareness of and research interest in this field Out of class learning constitutes an important context for human development and active engagement in out of class activities is associated with successful language development With convenient access to expanded resources venues and learning spaces today's learners are not as dependent on in class learning as they used to be Thus a deeper understanding of the terrain of out of class learning is of increasing significance in the current educational era Technology is part and parcel of out of class language learning and has been a primary source that learners actively use to construct language learning experience beyond the classroom Language learners of all ages around the world have been found to actively utilize technological resources to support their language learning beyond formal language learning contexts Insights into learners out of class autonomous use of technology for language learning are essential to our understanding of out of class learning and inform educators on how language learners could be better supported to maximize the educational potentials of technology to construct quality out of class learning experience
