Amsterdam Stories Nescio:

Amsterdam Stories Nescio, 2012-03-20 No one has written more feelingly and more beautifully than Nescio about the madness and sadness courage and vulnerability of youth its big plans and vague longings not to mention the binges crashes and marathon walks and talks No one for that matter has written with such pristine clarity about the radiating canals of Amsterdam and the cloud swept landscape of the Netherlands Who was Nescio Nescio Latin for I don't know was the pen name of J H F Gr nloh the highly successful director of the Holland Bombay Trading Company and a father of four someone who knew more than enough about respectable maturity Only in his spare time and under the cover of a pseudonym as if commemorating a lost self did he let himself go producing over the course of his lifetime a handful of utterly original stories that contain some of the most luminous pages in modern literature This is the first English translation of Nescio's stories

The Penguin Book of Dutch Short Stories Joost Zwagerman, 2016-09-29 The stories here will provoke delight and impress Joost Zwagerman's selection forms a fascinating guidebook to a landscape you'll surely want to wander in again Clare Lowden TLS There is a lot of northern European melancholy in the collection though often tinged with wry humour an excellent book Jonathan Gibbs Minor Literatures We were kids but good kids If I may say so myself We're much smarter now so smart it's pathetic Except for Bavink who went crazy A husband forms gruesome plans for his new fridge a government employee has a haunting experience on his commute home prisoners serve as entertainment for wealthy party guests an army officer suffers a monstrous tropical illness These short stories contain some of the most groundbreaking and innovative writing in Dutch literature from 1915 to the present day with most pieces appearing here in English for the first time Blending unforgettable snapshots of the realities of everyday life with surrealism fantasy and subversion this collection shows Dutch writing to be an integral part of world literary history Joost Zwagerman 1963-2015 was a novelist poet essayist and editor of several anthologies He started his career as a writer with bestselling novels describing the atmosphere of the 1980s and 1990s such as Gimmick 1988 and False Light 1991 In later years he concentrated on writing essays notably on pop culture and visual arts and poetry Suicide was the theme of the novel Six Stars 2002 He took his own life just after having published a new collection of essays on art The Museum of Light

The Philosophy of Translation Ezra Glinter, 2024-10-29 A deep dive into the nature of translation from one of its most acclaimed practitioners Avoiding theoretical debates and clichéd metaphors award-winning translator Damion Searls has written a fresh approachable and convincing account of what translation really is and what translators actually do As the translator of sixty books from multiple languages Searls has spent decades grappling with words on the most granular level nouns and verbs accents on people's names rhymes rhythm untranslatable cultural nuances Here he connects a wealth of specific examples to larger philosophical issues of reading and perception Translation he argues is fundamentally a way of reading but reading is much more than taking in information and translating is far from a mechanical process of converting one word to another This sharp and inviting exploration of the theory and practice of translation is for anyone who has ever marveled at the beauty force and movement of language

Literary Essays on Explicable Splendours Ethan Lewis, 2019-10-29 A literary critic aspires to eloquence though makes no pretense to mirror the sublimity of the monuments inspiring his endeavors Poets express their wonder through works of art Critics articulate their homage via analysis of art s workings Hence these essays and lectures addressed to the quizzical though not of necessity scholarly reader explore Shakespeare and noted re envisioners of the Bard four modern novels that interrogate identity and underappreciated works and writers They conclude with a series of pensees thinkings that in the course of glossing nuances reflect upon the interpretative craft itself Houses Borislav Pekic, 2016-04-05 Building can be seen as a master metaphor for modernity which some great irresistible force be it Fascism or Communism or capitalism is always busy rebuilding and Houses is a book about a man Ars nie Negovan who has devoted his life and his dreams to building Bon vivant Francophile visionary Negovan spent the first half of his life building houses he loved and even named Juliana Christina Agatha while making his hometown of Belgrade into a modern city to be proud of The second half of his life after World War II and the Nazi occupation he has spent in one of those houses looked after by his wife and a nurse in hiding Houses is set on the final day of his life when Negovan at last ventures forth to see the world as it is Negovan is one of the great characters in modern fiction a man of substance and a deluded fantasist a beguiling visionary and a monster of selfishness a charmer no matter what And perhaps he is right to fear that home is only an illusion in our world or that only in illusion is there home The Low Countries Jozef Deleu, 1997 The Low Countries ,1996 The Malahat Review ,1980 Writing in Holland and Flanders ,1974 Rietveld in Amsterdam : all executed and not executed projects Dennis de Rond, Annemiek Terstal, 1988 Bibliografie van de Nederlandse taal- en literatuurwetenschap ,1987 Aangevuld met de bibliografie van de friese taal en literatuurwetenschap The Amstel ,2002 The Times Index, January -December 2012 ,2012 Verslagen der bedrijven diensten en commissies van Amsterdam ,1961 In Praise of Navigation P. C. Evans, Paul F. Vincent, 2007 This collection of short stories showcases 20th century Dutch authors including Hugo Claus Harry Mulisch and Gerard Reve who are inadequately represented in translation The range of styles subject matter and political argument among these writers makes for a startling reminder that Holland has been both a crossroads in Europe and an imperial power with entanglements from South Africa to the East and the West Indies to Shanghai Claustrophobia paranoia power and desire are the themes of many of these stories and whether set at home or in exotic locales they turn an eye to global events Hellinga Festschrift/feestbundel/mélanges Wytze Gs Hellinga, 1980 Storie di Amsterdam Nescio, 2015 The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books, 1986 to 1987 British Library, 1988 Mededeelingen Amsterdam (Netherlands). Openbare leeszaal en bibliotheek, 1919 Restant ,1991
