

Contrastive analysis of code-switching from English into Spanish in West Side Story

Análisis contrastivo del cambio de código del inglés al español en West Side Story

Abstract: This investigation takes a discursive perspective in a contrastive analysis of Spanish in the original West Side Story film (Jerome Robbins and Robert Wise, 1961) and its recent remake (Steven Spielberg, 2021). The focus of analysis is the use(s) of Spanish by the Puerto Rican characters in both films, in the presence and absence of non-Spanish speakers. Several contextual situations are taken into account, such as in-group conversations and musical dialogues. This contributes to the research on film discourse by analyzing the use of Spanish in two critically acclaimed movies. The contrastive analyses show that Spanish is more spoken in the 2021 movie, combining emblematic code-switching, mostly present in the 1961 West Side Story, with conversational and musically performative Spanish, which did not appear in the original film.

Keywords: cinematic discourse; prefabricated orality; Spanish in film; code switching; fictional discourse analysis

Resumen: Esta investigación analiza discursiva y contrastivamente el español en la película original West Side Story (Jerome Robbins y Robert Wise, 1961) y su reciente remasterización (Steven Spielberg, 2021). El análisis se centra en los usos del español por parte de los personajes puertorriqueños en ambas películas en presencia y ausencia de no-hispanohablantes. Se tienen en cuenta varias situaciones contextuales, como las conversaciones en grupo y los diálogos musicales. Se contribuye así a la investigación sobre el discurso cinematográfico al analizar el uso del español en dos películas aclamadas por la crítica. Los análisis contrastivos muestran que el español se usa más en la película del 2021, combinando el cambio de código emblemático, presente sobre todo en West Side Story (1961), con el español conversacional y musicalmente performativo, que no aparecía en la película original.

Palabras clave: discurso cinematográfico; oralidad prefabricada; español en el cine; cambio de código; análisis del discurso ficticio

1. Introduction

There has been a growing interest in studying the so-called cinematic discourse, film discourse or language in film defined as the “conversations held by fictional characters and happens to be captured under such epithets such as «scripted», «constructed» or «prefabricated» dialogue” (Dyner, 2011, p. 43). This is an area of research in and of itself, in which the language(s) used by

An English Spanish Contrastive Analysis Of Culturally:

Current trends in anglophone studies: cultural, linguistic and literary research: Javier GARCÍA RUANO, 2011 La publicación de este volumen representa un caso relativamente insólito. Un pequeño grupo de jóvenes investigadores de menos de treinta años convence a un grupo mucho más numeroso de la misma edad para celebrar en Salamanca la First Conference of Young Researchers on Anglophone Studies. El resultado es deslumbrante. No solo demuestran una gran capacidad organizativa sino que los resultados individuales de las aportaciones científicas son sobresalientes. Este volumen Current Trends in Anglophone Studies recoge una selección revisada de las propuestas presentadas en el Encuentro y gira en torno a una estructuración tripartita clásica: estudios culturales, lingüísticos y literarios. En ella caben todos aquellos que se mueven en el campo de los estudios anglofonos. Cada uno de estos campos podría haber sido suficiente para celebrar un congreso pero parece razonable que en este tipo de encuentros tengan cabida todos. De ese modo este volumen se convierte en un ejemplo de aproximación interdisciplinaria a los estudios anglofonos. Desde un punto de vista cuantitativo los estudios culturales ocupan sin duda un espacio menor. Sin embargo sobresale la variedad de temas tratados: como la internacionalización de los autores dentro de este apartado, estudiantes españoles e italianos acometen estudios relacionados con la música, la pintura, el cine, la traducción, la marginalidad social o el impacto de las nuevas tecnologías en la producción artística. Si no pareciera demasiado atrevido podría decirse que estos jóvenes estudiosos irán más allá de lo que un día ya lejano pudieron imaginar Richard Hoggard o Raymond Williams. Los estudios aquí presentados reflejan sin duda la evolución que la propia sociedad ha experimentado en estos últimos cincuenta años y exploran la relación entre las prácticas culturales, la vida diaria y los contextos económicos, políticos e históricos. No es de extrañar que una gran parte de las contribuciones presentadas en este volumen se centren en el estudio de la lengua ya que la demanda del inglés se ha incrementado de forma considerable en los últimos años. Sobresalen los análisis puramente filológicos y sobre todo los relacionados con el aprendizaje del inglés como segunda lengua. Por eso destacan estudios que contemplan rasgos morfológicos léxicos o sintácticos. Sin embargo el mayor número de participaciones hace referencia al ya citado aprendizaje del inglés como L2 tanto desde el análisis de materiales como desde la práctica oral o escrita. Las contribuciones literarias ofrecen una evaluación teórica formal e interpretativa de distintas tendencias desde perspectivas tanto interdisciplinarias como interculturales. Cronológicamente los estudios abarcan textos desde el siglo XVIII hasta nuestros días con un acento especial en los autores más contemporáneos y en el género narrativo. En general estos estudios se fijan en textos concretos y los analizan desde perspectivas culturales, sociológicas o psicológicas. Pero abundan menos las aproximaciones desde la teoría literaria, desde la técnica narrativa o como tal vez cabría esperar al tratarse de estudiantes tan jóvenes desde la aplicación de las nuevas tecnologías. Por el contrario se repiten temas como los traumas heredados de la Guerra de Vietnam, las cicatrices del 11 de septiembre o los problemas de género.

Cross-linguistic and Cross-cultural Perspectives on Academic Discourse Eija Suomela-Salmi, Fred Dervin, 2009 The goal of this volume is to examine academic discourse AD from cross linguistic and cross cultural perspectives The adjective Cross cultural in the volume title is not just limited to national contexts but also includes a cross disciplinary perspective Twelve scientific fields are under scrutiny in the articles One of the unique aspects of the volume is the inclusion of a variety of foreign languages English as a lingua franca Spanish French Swedish Russian German Italian and Norwegian Besides in several articles dealing with oral AD comparisons and parallels are also established with written AD The research methodologies used in the studies are varied and they offer an overview of the diversity and richness of approaches to AD All in all it is hoped that the volume appeals not only to young researchers but also to confirmed scholars interested in cross linguistic and cross cultural aspects of AD It will also be of interest to language teachers or teachers who are involved with e g international students and academic mobility
