Anthropology And Religion What We Know Think And Question:

Anthropology and Religion Robert L. Winzeler, 2012-04-12 Drawing from ethnographic examples found throughout the world this revised and updated text hailed as the best general text on religion in anthropology available offers an introduction to what anthropologists know or think about religion how they have studied it and how Studyguide for Anthropology and Religion Cram101 Textbook Reviews, 2013-08 Never HIGHLIGHT a Book Again Includes all testable terms concepts persons places and events Cram101 Just the FACTS101 studyguides gives all of the outlines highlights and quizzes for your textbook with optional online comprehensive practice tests Only Cram101 is Textbook Specific Accompanies 9780759121904 This item is printed on demand The Origins of Religion in the Paleolithic Gregory J. Wightman, 2014-12-18 How did religion emerge and why What are the links between behavior environment and religiosity Diving millions of years into the past to a time when human ancestors began grappling with issues of safety worth identity loss power and meaning in complex and difficult environments Gregory J Wightman explores the significance of goal directed action and the rise of material culture for the advent of religiosity and ritual The book opens by tackling questions of cognitive evolution and group psychology and how these ideas can integrate with archaeological evidence such as stone tools shell beads and graves In turn it focuses on how human ancestors engaged with their environments how those engagements became routine and how eventually certain routines took on a recognizably ritualistic flavor Wightman also critically examines the very real constraints on drawing inferences about prehistoric belief systems solely from limited material residues Nevertheless Wightman argues that symbolic objects are not merely illustrative of religion but also constitutive of it in the continual dance between brain and behavior between internal and external environments lie the seeds of ritual and religion Weaving together insights from archaeology anthropology cognitive and cultural neuroscience history and philosophy of religions and evolutionary social and developmental psychology Wightman provides an intricate evidence based understanding of religion s earliest origins An Archaeology of Religion Kit W. Wesler, 2012-04-19 Archaeologists have been increasingly turning their attention to the study of religion but the field so far has lacked a cross cultural overview This text challenges archaeological conventions by refusing to respect the geographic and temporal boundaries with which archaeologists too often define their field Worldwide in range and comparative in perspective this exploration is guided by several fundamental questions how do we recognize religion in the archaeological record When should we recognize the first activities we call religious What distinguishes a world religion How can we see the formations of modern world religions in the archaeological record An Archaeology of Religion begins with the first glimmers of what might be considered religious expression in the Paleolithic period and concludes with the complexities of world religions today This book is an ambitious attempt to survey how scholars approach the identification of religious sites and practices in the archaeological record

Popular Religion in Southeast Asia Robert L. Winzeler, 2015-12-17 In this overview of popular religion in Southeast Asia Robert L Winzeler offers an interpretative look at the nature of today's indigenous religious traditions as well as Hinduism Buddhism Islam and Christianity and conversion He focuses not on religion as it exists in books doctrine theology and among elites and dominant institutions but rather in the lives beliefs and practices of ordinary people Popular Religion in Southeast Asia employs a broad view of religion as involving not just the usual Western notions of faith but also supernatural belief in general magic sorcery and practical concerns such as healing personal protection and success in business Case studies and concrete examples flesh out the discussion demonstrating how popular religion relates to historical and contemporary social cultural political and economic developments in the region

Who Do the Ngimurok Say That They Are? Kevin P. Lines, 2018-04-12 How do missiologists describe the cosmologies of those that Christianity encounters around the world Our descriptions often end up filtered through our own Western religious categories Furthermore indigenous Christians adopt these Western religious categories This presents the problem of local Christianities described by Kwame Bediako as those that have not known how to relate to their traditional culture in terms other than those of denunciation or of separateness Kevin Lines's phenomenological study of local religious specialists in Turkana Kenya not only challenges our Western categories by revealing a more authentic complexity of the issues for local Christians and Western missionaries but also provides a model for continued use of phenomenology as a valued research method in larger missiological studies Additionally this study points to the ways that local Christians and traditional religious practitioners interpret Western missionaries through local religious categories Clearly missionaries missiologists anthropologists and religious studies scholars need to do a much more careful job of studying and describing the contextually specific phenomena of traditional religious specialists before relying on meta categories that come out of our Western theology or older overly simplified ethnographies The research from this current study of Turkana religious specialists begins that process in the Turkana context and offers a model for future studies in contexts where traditional religion and Christianity intersect

Messy Methods in Researching Religion, 2025-05-03 This unique book investigates the real world complexities challenges and mistakes that are often encountered when researching religion values and culture Featuring the reflections of researchers from across the social sciences and humanities it offers vivid accounts of designing and executing both small scale and much larger projects Some chapters describe in detail the process and rationale behind methodological decisions including challenges adaptations and revisions Others reveal how things went wrong in the research process even past the point of recovery and what was learned There is reflection on wider conceptual theoretical and ethical debates about religion and what they mean in practice In acknowledging the messiness of researching religion the volume seeks to humanize and improve it The honest reflections it contains will help researchers avoid some common mistakes and face others openly without losing heart

Representation, Identity, and Multiculturalism in Sarawak Zawawi Ibrahim, 2008 The characteristics and processes of identity formation and representation have been crucial preoccupations in social science and historical studies of Sarawak and the wider Borneo We have examined Brooke and colonial policies on ethnicity and political party formation state federal relations nationalism and ethnicity in the post independence period We have considered inter ethnic relations and the encounters between minorities and the state in the context of development and socio economic change However Professor Zawawi s book demonstrates that in spite of this level of interest and activity there is still much to do We have tended to concentrate on particular groups at the expense of others Detailed studies of the Bidayuhs and Malays for example are few We still know very little about ethnic relations in urban settings and the politics of identity in relation to tourism development We need to explore much more thoroughly the interrelationships between ethnicity and other principles of social organisation including class gender and patron clientage
