ANTHROPOLOGY ROBERT L. WELSCH, 2024 The Field of Human Evolution: Critical Perspectives from History and Epistemology Mathilde Lequin, Juan Manuel Rodríguez Caso, 2026-03-11 In recent years the study of human evolution has made substantial advances from major fossil and archaeological discoveries to breakthroughs in paleogenetics and analytical methods Yet does more data necessarily lead to better science This volume challenges this assumption arguing that advances in understanding human origins require critical reflection Transforming scarce and incomplete data into claims about the distant past demands also deeper insights into how such knowledge is constructed validated and questioned Bringing together leading scholars from across disciplines this volume examines the historical philosophical and epistemological foundations of human evolutionary research from paleoanthropology and prehistoric archaeology to molecular anthropology and primatology Rather than resolving long standing debates the authors illuminate the complexities behind them encouraging a richer diversity of thought and method Ideal for researchers students and readers in both the sciences and humanities this book invites a deeper more inclusive engagement with the human past Edges of the State John Protevi, 2019-04-01 Using philosophical and scientific work to engage the perennial question of human nature This book takes a look at the formation and edges of states their breakdowns and attempts to repair them and their encounters with non state peoples It draws upon anthropology political philosophy neuroscience evolutionary biology child developmental psychology and other fields to look at states as projects of constructing bodies politic where the civic and the somatic intersect John Protevi asserts that humans are predisposed to prosociality or being emotionally invested in social partners and patterns With readings from Jean Jacques Rousseau and James C Scott a critique of the assumption of widespread pre state warfare as a selection pressure for the evolution of human prosociality and altruism and an examination of the different economies of violence of state and non state societies Edges of the State sketches a notion of prosocial human nature and its attendant normative maxims Forerunners Ideas First Short books of thought in process scholarship where intense analysis questioning and speculation take the lead Developing the Hall of Human Origins Shelley L. Smith, 2024-09-10 This book focuses on the development of the National Museum of Natural History's David H Koch Hall of Human Origins As one of the most visited human evolution exhibits in the world and the largest such exhibit in the United States it has tremendous influence on public perception and knowledge of human evolution The chapters explore how this exhibit came about how it has changed since opening and the associated educational and public outreach activities of members of the Smithsonian s Human Origins Program The author uses the term adaptive resilience to describe a central theme of the exhibit our species adaptation to changing environments as a key feature of our success and to refer to the resilience of Richard B Potts in creating his vision for the hall Contextual sections situate the hall s development within the history of paleoanthropology the politics of evolution and climate change and African contributions The book will be of particular interest to scholars of anthropology and museum studies as well as the history of science and science communication

Basics in Human Evolution Michael P Muehlenbein, 2015-07-24 Basics in Human Evolution offers a broad view of evolutionary biology and medicine The book is written for a non expert audience providing accessible and convenient content that will appeal to numerous readers across the interdisciplinary field From evolutionary theory to cultural evolution this book fills gaps in the readers knowledge from various backgrounds and introduces them to thought leaders in human evolution research Offers comprehensive coverage of the wide ranging field of human evolution Written for a non expert audience providing accessible and convenient content that will appeal to numerous readers across the interdisciplinary field Provides expertise from leading minds in the field Allows the reader the ability to gain exposure to various topics in one publication

Connecting with Our Ancestors: Human Evolution Museum Experiences Shelley L. Smith, 2024-09-29 This book combines documentation and analysis of the contents of exhibits in 12 museums Part 1 with interviews with experts involved in the creation of exhibits Part 2 to explore variation in human evolution exhibits To be successful museum exhibits must make a personal connection with visitors inspiring them to learn more Human evolution exhibits thus need contemporary relevance It is crucial to find ways to bind our deep past to our lives today Presenting our story and our collective history some human evolution exhibits reach an audience of millions each year An understanding of evolution is fundamental to modern biology and a lack of knowledge of basic principles has practical consequences including impairing reception of health messages The goal of the volume is to stimulate discussion of how the presentation of evolution and in particular human evolution can be improved contributing to scientific literacy and engagement with evolutionary science To enhance relevance to a broader public the author argues that incorporation of evolutionary medicine and clearer explanations of ancestry and human biological variation are needed The surveyed museums include four in Texas the author s home state seven additional renowned U S museums and the Natural History Museum in London Some of the 35 interviewees are prominent academic researchers other contribute their expertise in design art and education Topics discussed include exhibit content and changing exhibits the ideal vs reality in exhibit creation self assessments of exhibits education and edutainment and exhibit content intersections with religion politics and the history of representations of race human biological variation A bibliographic essay appendices and text boxes provide additional information for readers desiring more in depth study This volume is of interest to a wide range of readers in anthropology museum studies and science communication

Landscapes of Human Evolution James Cole, John McNabb, Matt Grove, Rob Hosfield, 2020-02-13 Fourteen papers are presented here in honour of John Gowlett John has a wide range of research interests primarily focused on the human genus Homo and is a world leader in understanding the cognitive and behavioural preconditions necessary for the emergence of complex behaviours such as language and art

Alterity and Human Evolution Oscar Moro Abadía, Martin Porr, 2026-04-01 Engaging critically with concepts of race species and otherness Alterity and Human Evolution contributes to current debates on human evolution In a political climate marked by movements such as Black Lives Matter and policies like Donald Trump s Executive Order 14168 against gender ideology this volume brings together a group of leading scholars in archeology paleoanthropology and human evolution to examine how narratives of human origins intersect with issues of race gender and anthropocentrism Drawing on postcolonial and critical frameworks from the Humanities and Social Sciences it interrogates key foundational concepts and assumptions underpinning evolutionary discourses

Annual Review of Anthropology Bernard J. Siegel, 1980 Annual compilation of critical articles from all areas of the discipline of anthropology

Women in Human Evolution Lori D. Hager, 1997 Women in Human Evolution challenges the traditional invisibility of women in human prehistory rejecting the conventional relegation of women to the realm of reproduction in order to ask what else our female ancestors were doing Raising key questions about both the existing archaeological evidence and the theoretical models which influence its interpretation the contributors discuss the evolutionary models used to explain gender differences They suggest reinterpretations of existing evidence to construct a model of human evolution which places women in a more central role Shifting their focus to the nature of the discipline itself they ask what impact women paleoanthropologists have had on the field s theoretical assumptions and what work remains to be done This title available in eBook format Click here for more information Visit our eBookstore at www.ebookstore.tandf.co.uk
