Study the map and find out what time zones there are. Although all the states that have a longitude of 120 degrees W. know that the sun reaches their peak position at 12:00 noon, not all states know it. This is because there is a 15-degree longitude interval between each boundary between time zones. Although there may not be a reporting station at that point,

Procedure

On map 1, a longitude interval will occur every 15 degrees. Find a station where the longitude is 120 degrees. Marking all the points where a 15-degree interval occurs will give you the 15-degree intervals. Marking all the points where a 15-degree interval occurs will give you the 15-degree intervals. Marking all the points where a 15-degree interval occurs will give you the 15-degree intervals.

Draw lines for the 12, 15, 18, and 21 degree intervals. Mark all the other lines.

- 1. In each case, compare the time zone with the time zone that is shown on the map.
