Reading Standards for Informational Text and Literatures
Ask and answer text-based questions; refer explicitly to the text as the basis for answers
Cite specific textual evidence, such as lines, phrases and logical text elements, to analyze how and why a passage makes a certain point, advances an idea or theme, reflects a character's thought process, or builds an argument
Use various text features, such as bold print, italics, and tables, when writing or speaking about a text
Distinguish among main ideas and supporting details of the text and analyze how details in the text contribute to the overall meaning and purpose of the text (e.g., how style and content differ in formal and informal writing)
Compare and contrast the themes, settings, and plots of two or more stories
Read and comprehend grade-level literature and informational text independently and proficiently
Describe the relationship between a central issue or theme, textual evidence, and its own analysis
Use language that refers to text, to specific lines and scenes, to specific words and phrases, and to specific details
Demonstrate the meaning of general academic and domain-specific words relevant to Grade 3 topics
Describe the logical connection between sentences and paragraphs in text (e.g., comparison, cause/effect)
Compare and contrast the most important points and details from two texts on the same topic
Vocabulary
Know and apply grade-level general and subject-specific words in reading and content
Identify and analyze the meaning of root morphemes, prefixes and suffixes, including Latin and Greek affixes
Determine meanings of general academic, domain-specific, and high-frequency general academic words
Read with sufficient accuracy and fluency to support comprehension
Use context to confirm or correct word meanings and understandings
Writing Standards
Write opinion pieces on topics or issues, supporting a claim or thesis with relevant reasons and evidence
Write informative/explanatory texts in which they introduce a topic, provide ideas and information clearly, and analyze a topic or issue, drawing on relevant background knowledge, experience, and research
Write narratives in which they recount an experience or event using effective techniques, such as descriptive details, dialogue, and action, to help add interest and meaning to the text
With guidance, use technology, including the Internet, to gather information and to analyze and evaluate the issue or topic on which they are writing
Write routinely over extended time frames (e.g., weeks) for research, reflection, and revision
Write for a range of purposes, including single-topic writing or focused communication
Speaking and Listening Standards
Participate actively in group discussions and presentations, expressing ideas and responding to the ideas of others
Ask questions to check understanding; refer to the topic and express ideas clearly in light of the discussion
Report on a topic or issue, tell about an experience, or present an argument with supporting facts, data, and details
Create an oral presentation that informs, persuades, entertains, or motivates a group
Language Standards (grammar and spelling)
Demonstrate command of the conventional forms of English grammar and usage
Demonstrate command of the conventional capitalization, punctuation, and spelling when writing
Demonstrate an understanding of words and phrases by flexibly using a variety of strategies
Demonstrate understanding of figurative language, word relationships and nuances in meaning

Classroom assessment methods should help students develop to their full potential but meshing traditional grading practices with students achievement on standards has been difficult. Making lasting changes to grading practices requires both knowledge and willpower. Discover eight guidelines for good grading recommendations for practical applications and suggestions for implementing new grading practices as well as The why's and the how to's of implementing standards based grading practices. Tips from 48 nationally and internationally known authors and consultants. Additional information on utilizing level scores rather than percentages. Reflective exercises. Techniques for managing grading more efficiently. Teaching with the Common Core Standards for English Language Arts, PreK-2 Lesley Mandel Morrow, Timothy Shanahan, Karen K. Wixson, 2012-11-29 Nearly every state has independently adopted the Common Core State Standards CCSS making this practical guide an indispensable resource for PreK-2 teachers and teachers in training. Leading authorities explain each of the English language arts ELA standards and vividly show how to implement them. The book is filled with grade specific classroom vignettes, instructional strategies and activities, sample lesson plans and discussion questions. Chapters cover the major ELA strands: reading literature, informational texts and foundational skills, writing, speaking and listening and language. Issues of assessment and technology integration are also explored. An appendix includes thematic units for each grade level demonstrating ways to embed CCSS ELA standards into content area instruction.
