

A wooden gavel with a multi-tiered head and a long handle rests on a stack of three books. In front of the books is a small wooden sign with a black background and white text that reads "ISLAMIC LAW". The entire scene is set against a dark background and is reflected on a polished wooden surface.

The Objectives of Islamic Law Rumees Ahmed, Idris Nassery, Muna Tatari, 2020-07-06 Scholars thinkers and activists around the world are paying increasing attention to a legal reform method that promises to revolutionize the way people think about Islamic law Known as The Objectives of the Shari'a maqā'id al-shari'a the theory offers a way to derive and apply new Islamic laws using an ancient methodology The theory identifies core objectives that underlie Islamic law and then looks at inherited Islamic laws to see whether they meet those objectives According to the maqā'id theory historical Islamic laws that meet their objectives should be retained and those that do not no matter how entrenched in practice or embedded in texts should be discarded or reformed Recently several scholars have questioned the maqā'id theory arguing that it is designed not to reform laws but to support existing power structures They warn that adopting the maqā'id wholesale would set the reform project back ensuring that inherited Islamic laws are never fully reformed to agree with contemporary values like gender egalitarianism and universal human rights

The Objectives of Islamic Law: The Promises and Challenges of the Maqā'id al-Shari'a captures the ongoing debate between proponents and skeptics of the maqā'id theory It raises some of the most important issues in Islamic legal debates today and lays out visions for the future of Islamic law

Islamic Law and Contemporary Issues Ahmad Zaki Yamani,1968

Islamic Law in Malaysia Adnan Trakic,Hanifah Haydar Ali Tajuddin,2021-03-16 This book examines the challenges of the implementation of Islamic law in Malaysia Malaysia is a pertinent jurisdiction to explore such challenges given its global focus colonial history and institutions and the intersection of the Shari ah and secularism multiculturalism The resultant implementation challenges are underpinned by three factors that make Malaysia an important jurisdiction for those interested in understanding the place of Islamic law in the global context First Malaysia is often considered as a model Islamic country Islamic law is a source of law in Malaysia The Islamic law legal system in Malaysia operates in parallel with a common law legal system The two systems of law generally are in harmony with one another Nevertheless occasional cross jurisdictional issues do arise and when they do the Malaysian judiciary has been quite efficient in solving them The Malaysian experience in maintaining such harmony between the two legal systems provides lessons for a number of countries facing such challenges Second Malaysia has a developed Shari ah court system that interprets and applies Islamic law predominantly based on the Shafi i school of thought While for the most part the approach has been successful there have been times when the implementation of the law has raised concerns as to the compatibility of Islamic law with modern principles of human rights and common law based values Third there have been cases where Islamic law implementation in Malaysia has gained global attention due to the potential for wider international implications To do justice to this complex area the book calls on scholars and practitioners who have the necessary expertise in Islamic law and its implementation As such this book provides lessons and direction for other countries that operate a dual system of secular and Islamic laws

Issues in Islamic Law Mashood A. Baderin, 2014. Islamic substantive law, otherwise called branches of the law (fur al fiqh), covers the textual provisions and jurisprudential rulings relating to specific transactions under Islamic law. It is to Islamic substantive law that the rules of Islamic legal theory are applied. The relationship between Islamic legal theory and Islamic substantive law is metaphorically described by Islamic jurists as a process of cultivation (istithmar), whereby the qualified jurist (mujtahid) as the cultivator uses relevant rules of legal theory to harvest the substantive law on specific issues in form of fruits (thamarat) from the sources. The articles in this volume engage critically with selected substantive issues in Islamic law, including family law, law of inheritance, law of financial transactions, criminal law, judicial procedure, and international law (al siyar). These areas of substantive law have been selected due to their contemporary relevance and application in different parts of the Muslim world today. The volume features an introductory overview of the subject as well as a comprehensive bibliography to aid further research.

Demystifying Shariah Sumbul Ali-Karamali, 2020-08-11. A direct counterpoint to fear-mongering headlines about sharia law, a Muslim American legal expert tells the real story, eliminating stereotypes and assumptions with compassion, irony, and humor. Through scare tactics and deliberate misinformation campaigns, anti-Muslim propagandists insist wrongly that sharia is a draconian and oppressive Islamic law that all Muslims must abide by. They circulate horror stories encouraging Americans to fear the takeover of sharia law in America and even mounting anti-sharia protests with zero evidence that sharia has taken over any part of our country. That's because it hasn't. It would be almost funny if it weren't so terrifyingly wrong as puzzling as if Americans suddenly began protesting the Martian occupation of Earth. Demystifying Shariah explains that sharia is not one set of punitive rules or even law the way we think of law, rigid and enforceable but religious rules and recommendations that provide Muslims with guidance in various aspects of life Sumbul Ali Karamali draws on scholarship and her degree in Islamic law to explain shariah in an accessible engaging narrative style its various meanings how it developed and how the shariah based legal system operated for over a thousand years She explains what shariah means not only in the abstract but in the daily lives of Muslims She discusses modern calls for shariah what they mean and whether shariah is the law of the land anywhere in the world She also describes the key lies and misunderstandings about shariah circulating in our public discourse and why so many of them are nonsensical This engaging guide is intended to introduce you to the basic principles goals and general development of shariah and to answer questions like How do Muslims engage with shariah What does shariah have to do with our Constitution What does shariah have to do with the way the world looks like today And why do we all Muslims or not need to care
