Interconnection Network Reliability Evaluation Neeraj Kumar Goyal, S. Rajkumar, 2020-09-15 This book presents novel and efficient tools techniques and approaches for reliability evaluation reliability analysis and design of reliable communication networks using graph theoretic concepts In recent years human beings have become largely dependent on communication networks such as computer communication networks telecommunication networks mobile switching networks etc for their day to day activities In today's world humans and critical machines depend on these communication networks to work properly Failure of these communication networks can result in situations where people may find themselves isolated helpless and exposed to hazards It is a fact that every component or system can fail and its failure probability increases with size and complexity The main objective of this book is to devise approaches for reliability modeling and evaluation of such complex networks Such evaluation helps to understand which network can give us better reliability by their design New designs of fault tolerant interconnection network layouts are proposed which are capable of providing high reliability through path redundancy and fault tolerance through reduction of common elements in paths This book covers the reliability evaluation of various network topologies considering multiple reliability performance parameters two terminal reliability broadcast reliability all terminal reliability and multiple sources to multiple destinations reliability

Fostering Competition in Telecommunications Services Markets Rachel Alemu,2018-02-02 This study investigates whether the existing regulatory framework governing the telecommunications sector in countries in Sub Saharan Africa effectively deals with emerging competition related concerns in the liberalised sector Using Uganda as a case study it analyses the relevant provisions of the law governing competition in the telecommunications sector and presents three key findings Firstly while there is comprehensive legislation on interconnection and spectrum management inefficient enforcement of the legislation has perpetuated concerns surrounding spectrum scarcity and interconnection Secondly the legislative framework governing anti competitive behaviour though in line with the established principles of competition law is not sufficient Specifically the framework is not equipped to govern the conduct of multinational telecommunications groups that have a strong presence in the telecommunications sector Major factors hampering efficient competition regulation include Uganda s sole reliance on sector specific competition rules restricted available remedies and a regulator with limited experience of enforcing competition legislation The weaknesses in the framework strongly suggest the need to adopt an economy wide competition law Lastly wireless technology is the main means through which the population in Uganda accesses telecommunications services Greater emphasis should be placed on regulating conduct in the wireless communications markets
