

STARTUP FUNDING STAGES

1

Pre-Seed Funding

The very first stage of funding for any business is the pre-seed funding stage. This is the phase at which the company is steadily establishing its roots.

2

Seed Funding

The next stage after the pre-seed funding stage is the seed funding stage. This is the stage where you truly begin to build your business. At this stage, the focus is on creating a solid foundation for your business to grow and thrive.

3

Series A Funding

The next stage after seed funding is the Series A funding stage. In this period, preferred stock is sold to investors who wish to be more involved in the business's development. Shares of the company are often offered in exchange for capital.

4

Series B Funding

Series B funding is the fourth stage of financing for startups. At this stage, investors look for evidence that the business is on track and can continue to generate long-term returns for the company.

5

Series C Funding

Series C funding is the 5th stage of raising capital for a startup. At this stage, companies that have succeeded in the previous funding stages move to this stage, and they are expected to have sufficiently expanded and have plenty of incoming revenue.

6

Series D Funding

After the Series C stage, the company can either move to the Series D funding stage or the initial public offering (IPO) stage. It's important to note that the decision to go for Series D funding may not necessarily be an indication of failure.

7

Initial Public Offering (IPO)

The final stage of a private corporation transitioning to a publicly traded company is the IPO stage. This is when the company issues new stocks to the general public, and public investors can now purchase shares in the business.
