Richard E. Porter,1972 Intercultural Communication for Everyday Life John R. Baldwin,Alberto González,Nettie Brock,Ming Xie,Chin-Chung Chao,2023-10-09 INTERCULTURAL COMMUNICATION FOR EVERYDAY LIFE Face the global challenges of the future with this accessible introduction to communication across boundaries Communication between cultures can be challenging in a number of ways but it also carries immense potential rewards In an increasingly connected world it has never been more important to communicate across a range of differences created by history and circumstance Contributing to global communities and rising to meet crucial shared challenges human rights disputes refugee crises the international climate crisis depends in the first instance on a sound communicative foundation Intercultural Communication for Everyday Life provides a thorough introduction to this vital subject for students encountering it for the first time Built around a robust and multifaceted definition of culture which goes far beyond simple delineation of national boundaries it offers an understanding of its subject that transcends US centricity The result updated to reflect dramatic ongoing changes to the interconnected world is essential for students of cross cultural communication and exchange Readers of the second edition of Intercultural Communication for Everyday Life readers will also find Accessible definitions of core concepts Revised and updated chapters reflecting the COVID 19 crisis climate change challenges and more An all new chapter on social media as a tool for intercultural communication Intercultural Communication for Everyday Life is essential for students and other readers seeking a foundational overview of this subject Cross-Cultural Business Communication Sven Rosenhauer,2008-12-02 Inhaltsangabe Introduction The transfer of business activities across nations is growing at a rapid rate The emergence of market economies in Latin America and Asia the collapse of communism in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe and the emerging democracy in Africa have led among other things not only to increased global trade international multinational and transnational business but also to an increased demand for international workforce since firms must employ people who possess international business skills in order to remain competitive in the global marketplace How often does it happen that we meet someone doing business in the United States after representing his her company in Asia Middle East or Europe How often do we meet someone obtaining an international degree abroad before doing business in China France or Scandinavia How often do companies require international experiences mobility and flexibility The soft skills of intercultural competence and open mindedness to cultural diversity are taught by universities around the world But what happens with our own cultural identity while doing business worldwide What happens if we conduct business in Japan but with an Italian colleague who lived in S o Paulo for many years Are we just applying intercultural competence or are we developing a universal business culture apart from our own national culture How does an international workforce communicate is it adapting the communication style of the host country of a majority culture or is it developing a communication style which is unique in international business Are we speaking the same language at the end Is the understanding of cultural diversity becoming less substantial and more implicit If companies and organizations require the indispensable and vague defined soft skills of intercultural competence could these skills be seen as an approach towards a universal business culture likewise a universal business communication Purpose of the Present Thesis The purpose of the present thesis is to examine if and to which extent cultures converge in an international business environment and if intercultural competence has a bearing on it Therefore theoretical and practical insights in the subject of culture its implicit and explicit differences as well as its measurements will be provided Due to the fact that communication as a major cultural attribute is the most obvious level on which cultural
