

The background of the cover is a dark, almost black, gradient. Overlaid on this are two large, wavy, organic shapes. One is a vibrant green, located in the lower-left and upper-left areas. The other is a bright pink, located in the lower-right and upper-right areas. The two colors meet in the center, creating a subtle purple/pinkish hue. The overall effect is a modern, artistic, and somewhat ethereal design.

Documentary Film Jeffrey Geiger, 2011-06-29 Richard Wall Memorial Award 2012 Finalist What key concerns are reflected in documentaries produced in and about the United States? How have documentaries engaged with competing visions of US history, culture, politics, and national identity? This book examines how documentary films have contributed to the American public sphere, creating a kind of public space serving as sites for community building, public expression, and social innovation. Geiger focuses on how documentaries have been significant in forming ideas of the nation, both as an imagined space and a real place. Moving from the dawn of cinema to the present day, this is the first full-length study to focus on the extensive range and history of American non-fiction filmmaking. Combining comprehensive overviews with in-depth case studies, Geiger maps American documentary's intricate histories, examining the impact of pre- and early-cinema travelogues, the avant-garde, 1930s social documentary, propaganda, direct cinema, postmodernism, and new documentary. Offering detailed close analyses and fresh insights, this book provides students and scholars with a stimulating guide to American documentary, reminding us of its important place in cinema history. Trans Narratives Ana Horvat, Orly Lael Netzer, Sarah McRae, Julie

Rak, 2021-09-30 Recently, trans has taken on a number of important theoretical and critical meanings, inside and outside the academy. As a prefix, trans can attach itself to other words to express or describe movement and change, as it does in the terms transnational or transmedia Trans is also an adjective when it is part of a word that signifies an identity or expression Trans has worked as an adjective to destabilize established ideas about gender as it makes new senses of what gender can mean for trans people Much of the study of life writing is about the study of identity and the possibilities for lives that stories of identity make possible In that spirit Trans Narratives trans transmedia transnational represents an opportunity for critical work about life writing by trans people to be featured as it seeks to interrogate the idea of trans in multiple registers bringing a prefix to the center of the current field of life writing studies It aims to understand through life writing and its theory what trans means when we talk about identities and bodies and to understand better what the critical terms transmedia and transnational can mean for the field of life writing The Chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of a b Auto Biography Studies

Speaking Truths with Film Bill Nichols,2016-04-05 How do issues of form and content shape the documentary film What role does visual evidence play in relation to a documentary s arguments about the world we live in In what ways do documentaries abide by or subvert ethical expectations Are mockumentaries a form of subversion Can the documentary be an aesthetic experience and at the same time have political or social impact And how can such impacts be empirically measured Pioneering film scholar Bill Nichols investigates the ways documentaries strive for accuracy and truthfulness and simultaneously fabricate a form that shapes reality Such films may rely on reenactment to re create the past storytelling to provide satisfying narratives and rhetorical figures such as metaphor or devices such as irony to make a point Documentaries are truly a fiction unlike any other With clarity and passion Nichols offers incisive commentaries on the basic questions of documentary s distinct relationship to the reality it represents as well as close readings of provocative documentaries from this form s earliest days to its most recent incarnations These essays offer a definitive account of what makes documentary film such a vital part of our cultural landscape

questions that pertain to various film practices. Diverse philosophical traditions provide useful frameworks to discuss spectators' affective and emotional engagement with film, which can function as a moral ground for one's connection to others and to the world outside the self. These traditions encompass theories of emotion, phenomenology, the philosophy of compassion, and analytic and continental ethical thinking and environmental ethics. This anthology is one of the first volumes to open up a dialogue among these diverse methodologies. Contributors bring to the fore some of the assumptions implicitly shared between these theories and forge a new relationship between them in order to explore the moral engagement of the spectator and the ethical consequences of both producing and consuming films. International Documentary, 2004

Collecting Visible Evidence Jane Gaines, Michael Renov, 1999. In documentary studies, the old distinctions between fiction and nonfiction no longer apply as contemporary film and video artists produce works that defy classification. Coming together to make sense of these developments, the contributors to this book effectively redefine documentary studies. They trace the documentary impulse in the early detective camera, in the reenactment of battle scenes from World War I, and in the telecast of the Nevada A bomb test in 1952. Other topics include experiments in virtual reality, the crisis of representation in anthropology and video art, and documentary work that challenge the asymmetry of the postcolonial. Book jacket

Ireland and Dysfunction Asier Altuna-García de Salazar, 2017-01-06. This collection of critical essays finds itself at the intersection of cultural, literary, and film studies and explores the various ways in which dysfunction is expressed in Irish studies. Dysfunction can be regarded as part and parcel of a portrayal of a landscape of trauma and crisis that may have been traditionally repressed in Ireland at large. However, dysfunction also envisages mediation, managing, transcending, and healing. As such, this volume examines how Ireland tackles dysfunction at large but more importantly how mediation, managing, healing, and transcending help in the understanding of the ever-changing and on-going process of the construction of an Irish identity today, sometimes looking back at the past but always creating the need of inventing new ways to understand the future of Ireland. The collection presents essays which tackle dysfunction from different and multifarious perspectives that range from sociological, historical, and literary discourses to more contemporary insights into dysfunction in today's Ireland. It encompasses theory and analysis and includes the works of both senior academics and emerging scholars as well as those outside academia.

The Johns Hopkins Guide to Literary Theory and Criticism Michael Groden, Martin Kreiswirth, Imre Szeman, 2005. Publisher Description Representing Reality Bill Nichols, 1992-02-22. A valuable and important book. The Year's Work in Critical and Cultural Theory. Representing Reality is the first book to offer a conceptual overview of documentary filmmaking practice. It addresses numerous social issues and how they are presented to the viewer by means of style, rhetoric, and narrative technique. The volume poses questions about the relationship of the documentary tradition to power, the body, authority, knowledge, and our experience of history. This study advances the pioneering work of Nichols's earlier book Ideology and the Image. Nichols has written a road block of a book which reconfigures the debate on the documentary at a new level of sophistication and complexity which can only be ignored at the risk of ignoring the whole area of documentary film Sight and Sound the most important book on documentary film yet published Canadian Journal of Film Studies Michael Moore's Fahrenheit 9/11 Robert Brent Toplin,2006 Examines the development of Michael Moore s ideas and the evolution of his filmmaking then dissects Fahrenheit 9 11 and explores the many claims and disagreements about the movie s truthfulness This study shows that Michael Moore s film did more than shake up a nation Michigan Quarterly Review ,2006 Schirmer Encyclopedia of Film Barry Keith Grant,2007 This reference source covers all aspects of the cinema including film history production national cinemas genre theory and criticism and cultural contexts

Memories of the Origins of Ethnographic Film Beate Engelbrecht,2007 Ethnographic Film which combines documentary filming and anthropological research originated in the late 19th century Early on anthropologists used film to record cultures Documentary filmmakers in the early 20th century developed different strategies with technical developments aiding further advances In the 1950s to 1970s intense debates among anthropologists filmmakers and artists many of whom met regularly at conferences and festivals took place on the methodology of ethnographic filmmaking Their discussions were handed on by word of mouth but rarely recorded or published In 2001 the pioneers of ethnographic film met in Gottingen and put together their recollections of the genre s Origins thus giving an unusual insight into the development of ethnographic film
