Island Genres, Genre Islands Ralph Crane, Lisa Fletcher, 2017-02-03 Island Genres Genre Islands moves the debate about literature and place onto new ground by exploring the island settings of bestsellers Through a focus on four key genres crime fiction thrillers popular romance fiction and fantasy fiction Crane and Fletcher show that genre is fundamental to both the textual representation of real and imagined islands and to actual knowledges and experiences of islands The book offers broad comparative readings of the significance of islandness in each of the four genres as well as detailed case studies of major authors and texts These include chapters on Agatha's Christie's islands the role of the island in Bondspace the romantic islophilia of Nora Roberts's Three Sisters Island series and the archipelagic geography of Ursula Le Guin's Earthsea Crane and Fletcher's book will appeal to specialists in literary studies and cultural geography as well as in island studies

To Say Nothing of the Dog Connie Willis, 2009-11-18 Willis effortlessly juggles comedy of manners chaos theory and a wide range of literary allusions with a near flawlessness of plot character and prose Publishers Weekly starred review From Connie Willis winner of multiple Hugo and Nebula Awards comes a comedic romp through an unpredictable world of mystery love and time travel Ned Henry is badly in need of a rest He's been shuttling between the twenty first century and the 1940s in search of a hideous Victorian vase called the bishop's bird stump as part of a project to restore the famed Coventry Cathedral destroyed in a Nazi air raid But then Verity Kindle a fellow time traveler inadvertently brings back something from the past Now Ned must jump to the Victorian era to help Verity put things right not only to save the project but also to prevent altering history itself

Subcreation: Fictional-World Construction from J.R.R. Tolkien to Terry Pratchett and Tad Williams Stefanie Schult, 2017-01-26 The doctoral thesis argues that the term Subcreation with its revised and broadened definition in part differing from J R R Tolkien's original term sub creation may be used for the discussion of the making of fictional worlds in literary discourse The successful conception of a fictional world depends on the reader's willing suspension of disbelief This depends both on the author and his skilled composition of the world and all its aspects as well as on the reader's acceptance of this invented fictional world The author needs to create a narrative with an inner consistency which is crucial to achieving the effect of the reader's immersion in the fictional world The fundamental aspects that an author needs to realize to achieve successful Subcreation have been structured into and analysed in four categories Language and Linguistic Variation Physiopoeia Anthropoeia and Mythopoeia Furthermore this thesis shows that as contemporary examples of fantastic literature both Tad Williams's and Terry Pratchett's fictional worlds are successfully created through the realization of these aspects of Subcreation Apart from commenting on the success of the subcreative process this thesis also remarks upon the cultural influences both authors include in their writings While both may be considered Anglophone in a general categorization Pratchett's Discworld retains a feeling of Britishness that is not to be found in Williams's Otherland The thesis proposes several approaches to Subcreation that may be studied subsequently So for example it may be possible to determine the success of an author's Subcreation by collecting empirical data Apart from literary works this field of studies may also include other media
