Supporting Reading in Grades 6-12 Sybil M. Farwell, Nancy L. Teger, 2012-06-11

This book presents a curricular framework for students grades 6-12 that school librarians and teachers can use collaboratively to enhance reading skill development, promote literature appreciation, and motivate young people to incorporate reading into their lives beyond the required schoolwork. Supporting Reading Grades 6-12: A Guide addresses head-on the disturbing trend of declining leisure reading among students and demonstrates how school librarians can contribute to the development of lifelong reading habits, as well as improve students' motivation and test scores. The book provides a comprehensive framework for achieving this: the READS curriculum, which stands for Read as a personal activity, Explore characteristics, history, and awards of creative works; Analyze structure and aesthetic features of creative works; Develop a literary-based product; and Score reading progress. Each of these five components is explained thoroughly, describing how school librarians can encourage students to read as individuals, in groups, and as school communities; support classroom teachers' instruction; and connect students to today's constantly evolving technologies. Used in combination with an inquiry information skills model, the READS curriculum enables school librarians to deliver a dynamic, balanced library program that addresses AASL's Standards for the 21st Century Learner.

Time for Meaning Randy Bomer, 1995 Time for Meaning brings a bold curriculum to the writing workshop: a curriculum that honors literary thinking and the study of literature. Randy Bomer speaks eloquently and honestly about his own experiences in the classroom: his successive stages of revision; his growth from a good to a better teacher. He encourages inquiry into more reflective practice, inviting you to examine your ways of thinking, your relationship to the subject of English, your standards for good teaching, your place in the professional community, and most significantly, your attitude toward time. Time for Meaning is both thoughtful and practical. It confronts the realities of today's classrooms: overcrowded curricula, unfriendly colleagues, choppy schedules, and resistant learners. Bomer suggests ways to transform these obstacles into opportunities to rethink the true purpose, meaning, and design of literacy education. He offers guidelines for helping students choose topics that are important to them, so important that they'll have the energy to work through the writing process, prompting initial responses to literature and moving toward polished pieces of writing, using writing as a tool for thinking and inquiring, an essential habit of mind for students to develop. Understanding what makes for poor student research writing and how to improve it; planning curricula that focus on story in fiction and memoir. Since time is so often the crucial issue in teaching, Bomer asks you to examine your attitudes toward time and the way you use it. He writes: What we do with time is what we do with our lives When we are unable to spend time on what we most value it is because we have not found a clarity of purpose We have lost our maps lost our rudder and we drift aimlessly as if time were not passing as if this teaching life were not ours to live Bomer is specific and persuasive without being prescriptive Time for Meaning is a snapshot of his current thinking a report on work that has already benefited many teachers It speaks as powerfully to experienced reading writing process teachers as it does to newcomers
