Georgia and World War I

Georgia's contributions to the war effort

World War I was the first global war. World War I was often referred to as "The Great War" and took place between 1914 and 1918. Georgia played a critical role in how America was engaged in this war. The state ended up contributing more than 100,000 people to the war effort, both men and women. Georgia also possessed more training camps than other states. However, Georgia also faced an influenza pandemic and racial tensions during this time.

Georgia was slow to support the war effort. In fact, Georgia politicians were against the war at first. The events in the beginning of the war crippled the economy of the state. Georgia cotton, tobacco, and timber could not reach markets in Europe due to naval blockades on the Atlantic. A naval blockade is when a country's military blocks shipping with military force. Even when the Lusitania sank, a Georgia senator stated that a war was not necessary to avenge the deaths of a few rich Americans. Georgia's position eventually changed to drastically support the war effort.

In 1917, when the United States officially declared war, Georgia had major training camps built. Georgia had more training camps than other states. Five major federal camps were built through the state to provide training, support, and supplies to the military. These federal training camps included: Fort McPherson (south of Atlanta), Fort Oglethorpe (near the Tennessee border), Fort Screven (Tybee Island), the Arsenal at Augusta and Camp Hancock (Augusta).
