This book shares insights about five major themes: best practices for teaching and learning digitally; digital learning platforms; virtual visualisation and laboratory to promote learning in science; digital assessment and building communities of learners and educators. The authors are chemistry instructors and researchers from nine countries contributing an international perspective on digital learning and teaching in chemistry. While the chapters in this book span a wide variety of topics as a whole they focus on using technology and digital platforms as a method for supporting inclusive and meaningful learning. The best practices and recommendations shared by the authors are highly relevant for modern chemistry education as teaching and learning through digital methods is likely to persist. Furthermore, teaching chemistry digitally has the potential to bring greater equity to the field of chemistry education in terms of who has access to quality learning and this book will contribute to that goal. This book will be essential reading for those working in chemical education and teaching. Yehudit Dori is internationally recognised, formerly Dean of the Faculty of Education of Science and Technology at the Technion Israel Institute of Technology and won the 2020 NARST Distinguished Contributions to Science Education through Research Award DCRA for her exceptional research contributions. Courtney Ngai and Gabriela Szteinberg are passionate researchers and practitioners in the education field. Courtney Ngai is the Associate Director of the Office of Undergraduate Research and Artistry at Colorado State University. Gabriela Szteinberg serves as Assistant Dean and Academic Coordinator for the College of Arts and Sciences at Washington University in St. Louis.      The Publishers Weekly, 1899      Chemistry Demystified Linda D.
