The Acquisition of Egyptian Arabic as a Native Language Margaret K. Omar, Margaret Kleffner Nydell, 2007 In 1968 Margaret K Omar Nydell spent four months in a small Egyptian village called Sheikh Mubarak Located in Middle Egypt near Al Minya residents of Sheik Mubarak speak in a dialect closer to Sa eedi not the dialect spoken in Cairo Omar spent time there conducting interviews examinations and taping sessions with children and families to study primary language acquisition in non Western languages Based on her fieldwork Omar describes the physical and social environment in which the native language was learned the development of early communication and speech and when and how children learn the phonology vocabulary morphology and syntactical patterns of Egyptian Arabic Omar makes comparisons with aspects of language acquisition of other languages primarily English and explores implications for the theory of language acquisition Originally published in 1973 this book is the most thorough and complete analysis of the stages in which children learn Arabic as a first language The Arabic in this book is presented in transcription making the information accessible to all linguists interested in language acquisition

Modern Arabic Clive Holes, 2004 The revised and updated edition of Modern Arabic takes this authoritative concise linguistic description of the structure and use of modern Arabic to an invaluable new level Clive Holes traces the development of the Arabic language from Classical Arabic the written language used in the 7th century for the Qur an and poetry through the increasingly symbiotic use of Modern Standard Arabic or MSA the language of writing and formal speech and dialectal Arabic the language of normal conversation He shows how Arabic has been shaped over the centuries by migration urbanization and education giving us a balanced dispassionate and accurate picture of the structures functions and varieties of the contemporary Arabic language Holes explains the structural characteristics phonology morphology syntax semantics and lexical and stylistic developments that the majority of the dialects share as distinguished from Modern Standard Arabic He also shows how native speakers use both types of Arabic for different purposes with MSA being the language of power and control as used on television and in political speeches and the dialects serving as the language of intimacy and domesticity He further shows how MSA and spoken dialects are not as compartmentalized as one might be led to believe Modern Arabic illustrates the use of the Arabic language in real life whether in conversation news bulletins and newspaper articles serious literature or song This new edition takes into account research published in several areas of Arabic linguistics since the first edition was published in 1995 It includes more extensive comment on the North African Arabic vocabulary of Modern Standard Arabic more information about mixed varieties of written Arabic that are not in MSA especially in Egypt updated references explanations and many new examples All Arabic is transcribed except for an appendix presenting the Arabic alphabet and script Students of the Arabic language will find Modern Arabic without peer as will those general linguists who are interested in discovering how Arabic compares structurally and sociolinguistically with European languages
