Badrul H. Khan, Mohamed Ally

Impact Of E Learning In Education:

Trends and Issues in Distance Education Lya Visser, Yusra Laila Visser, Ray Amirault, Michael Simonson, 2012-05-15 This book captures global trends and issues in distance education through 21 chapters by over 30 international authors. It addresses conceptual and practical aspects reflecting on diverse initiatives and technologies from advanced 3D computing to wind up radios for researchers, practitioners, and students. Applied E-Learning and E-Teaching in Higher Education Donnelly, Roisin, McSweeney, Fiona, 2008-07-31 This book presents international practices in the development and use of applied e-Learning and e-Teaching in the classroom in order to enhance student experience, add value to teaching practices, and illuminate best practices in the area of e-Assessment. This book provides insight into e-Learning and e-Teaching practices while exploring the roles of academic staff in adoption and application. Provided by publisher. International Handbook of E-Learning Volume 1 Badrul H. Khan, Mohamed Ally, 2015-02-20 The International Handbook of e-Learning Volume 1 provides a comprehensive compendium of research and theory in all aspects of e-learning, one of the most significant ongoing global developments in the entire field of education. Covering history, design models, instructional strategies, best practices, competencies, evaluation, assessment, and more, these twenty-seven contributions tackle the tremendous potential and flexibility inherent to this rapidly growing new paradigm. Past and present empirical research frames each chapter, while future research needs are discussed in relation to both confirmed practice and recent changes in the field. The book will be of interest to anyone seeking to create and sustain meaningful, supportive learning environments within today's anytime, anywhere framework, from teachers, administrators, and policy makers to corporate and government trainers. Handbook of Research on E-Learning Applications for Career and Technical Education: Technologies for Vocational Training Wang, Victor X., 2009-05-31 Provides an authoritative reference collection on leading international insights into the integration of technology tools and applications with adult and vocational instruction. E-Learning in the 21st Century D. Randy Garrison, 2003-08-29 There is currently a technological revolution taking place in higher education. The growth of e-learning is being described as explosive, unprecedented, and above all, disruptive. This timely and comprehensive book provides a coherent framework for understanding e-learning in higher education. The authors draw on their extensive research in the area to explore the technological, pedagogical, and organisational implications of e-learning, and more importantly, they provide practical models for educators to use to realise the full potential of e-learning. A unique feature of the book is that the authors focus less on the ever-evolving technologies and more on the search for an understanding of these technologies from an educational perspective. This book will be invaluable for researchers, practitioners, and senior administrators looking for guidance on how to successfully adopt e-learning in their institutions. It will also appeal to anyone with an interest in the impact of e-learning on higher education and society. Contemporary Perspectives in E-Learning Research Gráinne Conole, Martin Oliver, 2006-11-22 E-learning is at an exciting point in its development; this book aims to define e learning as a field of research highlighting the complex issues activities and tensions that characterize the area

E-learning Globalization Heather Skinner, Paul Jones, 2014 The ubiquity of information and communication technology in the past two decades or so and the more recent growth in the use of mobile wireless devices has transformed various aspects of daily life for many people worldwide. It is therefore unsurprising that such technologies would also find their way into transforming various aspects of education and training. What may be surprising is that even though forms of computer-assisted learning have been used for over 40 years, educators and trainers can still find themselves grappling with relatively basic issues of defining the way this transforms.

Evaluating e-Learning Rob Phillips, Carmel McNaught, Gregor Kennedy, 2012-03-22. How can novice e-learning researchers and postgraduate learners develop rigorous plans to study the effectiveness of technology-enhanced learning environments? How can practitioners gather and portray evidence of the impact of e-learning? How can the average educator who teaches online without experience in evaluating emerging technologies build on what is successful and modify what is not? By unpacking the e-learning lifecycle and focusing on learning, not technology, Evaluating e-Learning attempts to resolve some of the complexity inherent in evaluating the effectiveness of e-learning. The book presents practical advice in the form of an evaluation framework and a scaffolded approach to an e-learning research study using divide-and-conquer techniques to reduce complexity in both design and delivery. It adapts and builds on familiar research methodology to offer a robust and accessible approach that can ensure effective evaluation of a wide range of innovative initiatives, including those covered in other books in the Connecting with e-Learning series. Readers will find this jargon-free guide a must-have resource that provides the proper tools for evaluating e-learning practices with ease.

The SNU Journal of Education Research, 2007. What Works in K-12 Online Learning Cathy Cavanaugh, Robert L. Blomeyer, 2007. Provides an overview of effective online teaching and learning practices.
