Methodology in Sports History Wray

Vamplew, Dave Day, 2018-12-07 The process of converting the past into history involves engagement with a multitude of different sources and methods and sports historians inevitably participate in the same debates over approaches and methodologies as their counterparts in other historical disciplines At its heart history remains a genre of empirical knowledge that is based upon the remains of the past and without suitable evidence there can be no sports history A burgeoning range of sources has stimulated new ways of thinking and a significant expansion in the sports historian s evidentiary base as textual sources have been supplemented by photos films and cartoons uniforms architecture maps and landscapes and material culture more generally This book deals with some of these innovations It is divided into two sections the first offering chapter length studies of particular methodologies and the second brief responses from experts in their fields to the question what can sports historians learn from other disciplines The Two Rules of Sociological Method Chris Jenks, 1996 The Rules of Sociological Method Émile Durkheim, 1938 Celebrating the 100th Anniversary of Émile Durkheim's 'The Rules of Sociological Method' Stephen P. Turner, 1995 The Rules of Sociological Method Emile Durkheim, 1956 The Oxford Handbook of International Arbitration Thomas Schultz, Federico Ortino, 2020-09-11 This Handbook brings together many of the key scholars and leading practitioners in international arbitration to present and examine cutting edge knowledge in the field Innovative in its breadth of coverage chapter topics range from the practicalities of how arbitration works to big picture discussions of the actors involved and the values that underpin it The book includes critical analysis of some of international arbitrations most controversial aspects whilst providing a nuanced account overall that allows readers to draw their own informed conclusions The book is divided into six parts after an introduction discussing the formation of knowledge in the field Part I provides an overview of the key legal notions needed to understand how international arbitration technically works such as the relation between arbitration and law the power of arbitral tribunals to make decisions the appointment of arbitrators and the role of public policy Part II focuses on key actors in international arbitration such as arbitrators parties choosing arbitrators and civil society Part III examines the central values at stake in the field including efficiency legal certainty and constitutional ideals Part IV discusses intellectual paradigms structuring the thinking in and about international arbitration such as the idea of autonomous transnational legal orders and conflicts of law Part V presents the empirical evidence we currently have about the operations and effects of both commercial and investment arbitration Finally Part VI provides different disciplinary perspectives on international arbitration including historical sociological literary economic and psychological accounts The Rules of Sociological Method Émile Durkheim, 1971 Advances in Social Theory and Methodology Karin Knorr Cetina, A.V. Cicourel, 2014-08-21 After a period in which sociology was torn apart by the polarized claims of micro and macro methodology an increasing number of sociologists are now attempting a fusion of the two approaches In this volume some of the most distinguished sociologists set out possible resolutions of the debate Each of the chapters placed in perspective by the editors prologue approaches the problem from a unique angle Aaron Cicourel argues for a macro basis of social interaction Randall Collins shows how the macro consists of an aggregate of micro episodes Troy Duster presents a methodological model for generating a systematic data base across different contexts of social action through his examination of the procedures governing screening for inherited disorders Rom Harr launches a philosophical attack on what he sees as a spurious bifurcation of micro and macro levels Anthony Giddens explores the problem of unintended consequences and Gilles Fauconnier through a depiction of Jesuitical casuistry shows how vital clues to macro structure can be elicited from the micro phenomenon of language Victor Lidz continues the language theme in his chapter on the implications of advances in linguistic theory for macro systems theory Niklas Luhmann illustrates the micro macro problem by the communication about law in interaction systems The theory of historical materialism is reassessed by Jürgen Habermas Taking the example of Renault and electric vehicles Michel Callon and Bruno Latour investigate how micro actor status is attained and the sociologists involvement in this transformation Finally Pierre Bourdieu writing on men and machines analyses the historical imperatives that create the complex relation between man and his environment
