(ROD STEWART)

Words & Music by Gavin Sutherland
Arr.: Hans-Günter Heumann

Adagio M.M. ♩ = 62

The first system of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef with a key signature of two sharps (F# and C#) and a common time signature (C). It begins with a piano (p) dynamic marking and contains a melodic line with several triplet markings. The lower staff is in bass clef and contains a bass line with a '3 (4)' marking. The system concludes with a double bar line.

The second system of musical notation continues the piece. It features the same two-staff layout. The upper staff includes tempo markings: poco rit. followed by a tempo. The lower staff includes a mp (mezzo-piano) dynamic marking. The system ends with a double bar line.

The third system of musical notation shows the continuation of the melody and bass line. The upper staff has three chord boxes labeled 'E', 'C#m', and 'A'. The lower staff continues with the bass line and includes fingering numbers (1, 2, 3, 4, 5) for the left hand. The system ends with a double bar line.

The fourth system of musical notation is the final system on the page. The upper staff has three chord boxes labeled 'E', 'F#', and 'C#m'. The lower staff continues with the bass line and includes fingering numbers. The system concludes with a double bar line.

Litpop: Writing and Popular Music Rachel Carroll, Adam Hansen, 2016-05-13 Bringing together exciting new interdisciplinary work from emerging and established scholars in the UK and beyond Litpop addresses the question how has writing past and present been influenced by popular music and vice versa Contributions explore how various forms of writing have had a crucial role to play in making popular music what it is and how popular music informs literary writing in diverse ways The collection features musicologists literary critics experts in cultural studies and creative writers organised in three themed sections Making Litpop explores how hybrids of writing and popular music have been created by musicians and authors Thinking Litpop considers what critical or intellectual frameworks help us to understand these hybrid cultural forms Finally Consuming Litpop examines how writers deal with music's influence how musicians engage with literary texts and how audiences of music and writing understand their own role in making Litpop happen Discussing a range of genres and periods of writing and popular music this unique collection identifies theorizes and problematises connections between different forms of expression making a vital contribution to popular musicology and literary and cultural studies

Performance and Popular Music Ian Inglis, 2017-07-05 Since the emergence of rock n roll in the early 1950s there have been a number of live musical performances that were not only memorable in themselves but became hugely influential in the way they shaped the subsequent trajectory and development of popular music Each in its own way introduced new styles confronted existing practices shifted accepted definitions and provided templates for others to follow Performance and Popular Music explores these processes by focusing on some of the specific occasions when such transformations occurred An international array of scholars reveal that it is through the often disruptive dynamics of performance and the interaction between performer and audience that patterns of musical change and innovation can best be recognised Through multi disciplinary analyses which consider the history place and time of each event the performances are located within their social and professional contexts and their immediate and long term musical consequences considered From the Beatles and Bob Dylan to Michael Jackson and Madonna from Woodstock and Monterey to Altamont and Live Aid this book provides an indispensable assessment of the importance of live performance in the practice of popular music and an essential guide to some of the key moments in its history
