Key Aspects of German Employment and Labour Law Jens Kirchner,Pascal R. Kremp,Michael Magotsch,2017-12-28 This book provides practical business orientated and accessible guidance on key aspects of German employment and labour law as well as adjoining fields This second completely revised edition presents the latest changes in German labour and employment law and jurisprudence It covers amongst other newer developments the statutory minimum wage changes in agency work extensive changes in European and German employee data protection law and includes a completely new chapter on compliance issues in the employment context Specialised lawyers with many years of experience explain the legal basis of these aspects of German law highlight typical practical problems and suggest solutions to those problems In addition examples are given on how to best manage legal pitfalls to minimise risks This book translates employment and labour law for foreign in house counsels and human resources managers at international companies and provides a clear understanding of the complex legal regulations in Germany

Modes of Migration Regulation and Control in Europe Jeroen Doomernik, Michael Jandl, 2025-10-01 In Europe immigration is a politically burning issue especially when it comes to the arrival of asylum seekers and illegal labour migrants Governments want to keep them under control in order to limit their numbers Yet traditionally there were strong differences between European states in the extent to which they sought to do so and the instruments employed to that end Currently the contours become visible of a common approach towards notably irregular migration This becomes clear from the country studies comprising this volume The Regional Travel Guide for Thuringia (Germany) , The Regional Travel Guide for North Rhine-Westphalia (Germany) ,

Handbook of Student Travel in Europe International Confederation of Students. Commission for International Relations and Travel, 1927 Refugees in Europe Danièle Joly, Clive Nettleton, 1990 This report is intended to contribute to a better understanding of the complex refugee issue in Europe at a time when the members of the European Community are attempting to relax their internal border controls and have to harmonize their refugee determination procedures The report begins with an overview of the refugee issue and mass movements in the 20th century including the birth of an international system to deal with refugees Descriptions are given of the 1951 Geneva Convention and the 1967 Protocol in terms of the emergence of new refugees Different categories of refugees which have emerged in Europe are presented The report then looks at the search for common characteristics among these groups to define a refugee as the new realities create a need for new definitions Although hesitant about using available statistics the report does give figures relating to asylum seekers in Europe since 1975 and refugees in relation to populations A separate section of the report deals with the politics of determination and attempts to harmonize European procedures Restrictive measures in various European countries are described as well as the problems posed by recent refugee movements in Eastern Europe Mention is also made of potential new refugees The report analyses the movement towards common European refugee policies and practices and the main items on which the discussions on harmonization have focused The report outlines problems in the process of settlement understood as beginning from the moment the asylum seeker arrives The final section of the report deals with issues concerned with social and cultural activities and political rights The recommendations at the end of the report deal with four categories recommendations to prevent the root cause of refugee movements the extension of international standards concerning refugees strengthening of good practice by governments in their treatment of asylum seekers and refugees recommendations for good practice in the settlement and long term development and integration of refugees in European
