Race in American Literature and Culture examines the hardening of racial fault lines throughout the nineteenth century and into the twentieth while considering aspects of the literary and interrelated traditions that emerged from this fractured cultural landscape A multicultural study of the influential and complex presence of race in the American imagination the book pushes debate in exciting new directions Offering expert explorations of how the history of race has been represented and written about it shows in what ways those representations and writings have influenced wider American culture Distinguished scholars from African American Latinx Asian American Native American and white American studies foreground the conflicts in question across different traditions and different modes of interpretation and are thus able comprehensively and creatively to address in the volume how and why race has been so central to American literature as a

The events surrounding the 2014 killing of Michael Brown in Ferguson Missouri marked a watershed moment in US history Though this instance of police brutality represented only the latest amid decades of similar unjust patterns it came to symbolize state complicity in the deployment of violence to maintain racial order Rupturing Rhetoric The Politics of Race and Popular Culture since Ferguson responds to the racial rhetoric of American popular culture in the years since Brown s death Through close readings of popular media produced during the late Obama and Trump eras this volume details the influence of historical and contemporary representations of race on public discourse in America Using Brown s death and the ensuing protests as a focal point contributors argue that Ferguson marks the rupture of America s postracial fantasy An ideology premised on colorblindness the notion of the postracial suggests that the United States has largely achieved racial equality and that race is no longer a central organizing category in American society Postracialism is partly responsible for ahistorical romanticized narratives of slavery Jim Crow segregation and American exceptionalism The legitimacy of this fantasy the editors contend was the first casualty of the tanks tear gas and rubber bullets wielded against protesters during the summer of 2014 From these protests emerged a new political narrative organized around BlackLivesMatter which directly challenged the fantasy of a postracial American society Essays in Rupturing Rhetoric cover such texts as Fresh Off the Boat Hamilton

Green Book NPR's American Anthem Lovecraft Country Disney remakes of Dumbo The Lion King and Lady and the Tramp BlacKkKlansman Crazy Rich Asians The Hateful Eight and Fences As a unified body of work the collection interrogates the ways contemporary media in American popular culture respond to and subvert the postracial fantasy underlying the politics
