|           | □□        | □□□       |

James says if he increases the pattern number by one, square that number and then subtract the pattern number increased by one he will get the general formula.

John says he can derive the general formula for the number of blocks by taking the number of columns in each pattern and multiplying it by the number of rows.

Who is correct between James and John? Prove your answer.
