Environmental Engineering Howard S. Peavy, Donald R. Rowe, George Tchobanoglous, 1985 This book brings together and integrates the three principal areas of environmental engineering water air and solid waste management It introduces a unique approach by emphasizing the relationship between the principles observed in natural purification processes and those employed in engineered systems First the physical chemical mathematical and biological principles that define measure and quantify environmental quality are described Next the processes by which nature assimilates waste material are discussed and the natural purification processes that form the basis of engineered systems are detailed Finally the engineering principles and practices involved in the design and operation of environmental engineering works are covered at length Written in a lucid style and offering abundant illustrations and problems the book provides a treatment of environmental engineering that can be understood by a wide range of readers

Six-minute Solutions for Civil PE Exam R. W. Schneiter, 2003 Contains 100 multiple choice practice problems 20 for the morning module and 80 for the afternoon module for the environmental topic on the civil PE exam Each problem is written to be solved in six minutes the average amount of time examinees will have on the exam

Pulse-Jet Filtration: an Effective Way to Control Industrial Pollution Arunangshu Mukhopadhyay, 2019-03-15 This book provides the fundamental concept of design and development of pulse jet filters under varied situations It discusses technical and commercial solutions for successful operation of textile industries integrated with pollution control equipment maintaining clean air requirements Biological Degradation of Wastes A.M. Martin,1991-12-31 The cumulative effects of pollution have led in recent years to increased public concern which is resulting in stricter legislation on the discharge of wastes in whatever state they are present gaseous liquid or solid The treatment and disposal of wastes has become one of the most important problems facing mankind This is a problem which will not disappear and could even worsen if it is not faced with resolution by all the main parties involved consumers governments producers and scientists Some wastes could be reused producing some economic return which could pay for the waste treatment process In the best of cases this could become an economically attractive recycling operation However in many situations waste treatment is considered to be an unproductive process which entails additional costs to an otherwise productive operation Methods for the removal and purification of wastes including those considered to be toxic wastes the most dreaded form of pollution if developed at all suffer from serious limitations Two of these are the high energy input into the process and after the contaminants have been removed the lingering problem of what to do with them as they will then exist as some kind of concentrate The ideal solution is none other than a natural biological process to degrade wastes Fortunately mankind is increasingly choosing that option as exemplified by the general acceptance of the role of biotechnology in modern society
