Religions of China Daniel E. Overmyer,1998-03-10 The guiding themes of Chinese religion as it is actually lived This short work explains basic ideas and practices of Chinese religions in direct and simple language with many examples and analogies for increased understanding Its basic assumption is that religion is best understood as an aspect of everyday life as something that makes sense to those who practice it even if outsiders might be puzzled at first While Overmyer's treatment focuses on traditional China before the twentieth century many of the beliefs and practices described are still alive at least in some Chinese communities While the basic concern of this book is first to understand Chinese religions in their own right it takes the additional step of exploring what modern students might learn from them The Wiley-Blackwell Companion to Chinese Religions Randall L. Nadeau,2012-05-07 Comprising the most up to date interdisciplinary research on the study of Chinese religious beliefs and cultural practices this volume explores the rich and complex religious and philosophical traditions that have developed and flourished in one of the world's oldest civilizations Covers the main Chinese traditions of Confucianism Taoism and Buddhism as well as Christianity and Islam Features a unique organizational structure with groups of readings focused on historical traditions based and topical elements of Chinese religion Explores a number of contemporary religious topics including gender nature asceticism material culture and gods and spirits Brings together a team of authors who are experts in their sub fields providing readers with the latest research in a rapidly growing discipline Experiential Education and Adolescents' Personal and Spiritual Development Chung Kwan Ackie Cheung,2012-11-27 Adventure based programs have become prevailing in the schools in Hong Kong Due to the little empirical examination to the frequent use of experiential education Chung Kwan Ackie Cheung uses mixed methods to establish its first phenomenal picture addressing the scale of the use of experiential education and the impact of it on adolescents development with regard to the globalizing phenomenon of Hong Kong The findings show that experiential education esp adventure based program has been widely spread and there is positive impact in the specified aspects self concept self efficacy learning climate and spiritual dimension of its adolescent learners Chinese Beliefs and Practices in Southeast Asia Hock Tong Cheu,1993

Chinese Religions David Howard Smith,1968 Chinese Religion Through Hindu Eyes Benoy Kumar Sarkar,1916 The Perception of Christianity as a Rational Religion in Singapore Clive S. Chin,2017-03-23 This book evaluates the common criticism that Christianity in Asia is westernized Since the 1980s Asian evangelical theologians and missiologists argue that the intrusion of Western theology is responsible for the Western and hence alien expressions of Christianity in Asia Yet in Singapore the number of Christians has increased over the last few decades Empirical evidence demonstrates that younger Chinese Singaporeans convert from Buddhism or Taoism to Christianity partly because they perceive it as a rational religion over Buddhism or Taoism which are viewed as irrational or superstitious Not only do many converts favor Christianity as a rational religion but they do not regard Christianity as a Western religion at the point of their conversion What accounts for those recent developments This study explores the processes of modernization and globalization as important factors impacting religious change in Singapore Personal contextual and structural elements actually influence one's religion of choice In facilitating effective mission one must qualify the use of the categories Asian and Western because religious and cultural boundaries overlap What matters most in missiology is discerning how the gospel of Jesus Christ engages the self understanding and lived realities of ethnic and religious others in diverse cultural settings

Religions in Ancient China Herbert Giles, 2019-12-06 Throughout history China has been the home and destination of many religious and philosophical traditions Confucianism and Taoism in addition to Buddhism are the so called three doctrines or teachings which have played an important role in shaping Chinese culture The elements of these three belief systems are incorporated into the traditional Chinese religion that is worship devoted to local gods and ancestors this has always been and continues to be the religion of the majority of the population family oriented and not requiring exclusive adherence which allows the practice or expression of personal beliefs of different faiths at the same time Some scholars prefer not to use the term religion in reference to Chinese belief systems suggesting instead that it be cultural practices systems of thought and philosophies as their most appropriate definition While Confucianism in its religious aspect corresponds to the traditional religion of worship of local gods and ancestors Taoism has developed as an ecclesiastical movement distinct from the common religion since the 1st or 2nd century Buddhism was introduced in the 1st century and grew to have a strong impact in China which it still preserves today Today's Chinese state officially recognizes five religions managed through centralized institutions Buddhism Taoism Protestantism Catholicism and Islam Traditional religion in all its forms even if not centralized at the bureaucratic level enjoys freedom According to statistics 70% of Chinese people practiced traditional religion including 13% who practiced traditional cults in a Taoist doctrinal or ritual framework or popular religions influenced by Taoism while those who identified themselves only as initiated Taoists were 0.8% the term Taoist in China is traditionally reserved only for Taoist priests or those who undertake direct discipleship under their leadership and is not traditionally extended to the multitude of lay followers The adherents to Buddhism were 14% and of these the formally initiated Buddhists formed 1.3% Christians were 2.4% of whom 2.2% were Protestants and 0.2% were Catholics Muslims were 1.7% The remaining 13% of the population was not religious they were atheist agnostic or had not declared any preference Confucianism as a religious designation is popular among intellectuals although there are various popular movements of Confucian origin
