Population Report, 2007-03

Political, Social, Religious and Economic Challenges in the Middle East and North Africa Flavia Cortelezzi, Alessandro Ferrari, Jinan Limam, 2025-12-23
A decade after the Arab springs the book aims to provide a concise perspective on the political social and economic challenges of the southern shore of the Mediterranean a decade after the Arab springs
The volume both from a sociolegal and economic perspective aims to offer readers an analytical and up to date picture of the transformations in several particularly significant countries in the area under consideration
The volume thus covers the entire north African and near Eastern coastal belt from Morocco to Lebanon and extends its focus into the Gulf
In particular keeping in the background the Agenda 2020 2030 the book explores on the one side the role of the religious factor in the transformation of the constitutional orders and on the other the perspectives of economies of MENA region in the decade that followed the Arab springs
In a different way the Arab springs were characterized from a constitutional point of view by the attempt at a different relationship between political power and religion
This new arrangement particularly evident in the Tunisian Constitution but not absent in other contemporary experiences was associated with favorable and expanding economic prospects
The book questions the relevance of this reading and how economic and political factors affected subsequent transformations
The situation of each country is individual in that it differs depending on many factors starting with historical and geographical factors that have profoundly influenced social political and economic structures
What is to be expected for the MENA region in the light of Agenda 2020 2030
Which are the major opportunities for growth and reform and which are the main risks
By adopting a multidisciplinary approach this book will offer a comprehensive picture of the main political and economic challenges for MENA region

Development, Implementation and Evaluation of Curricula in Nursing and Midwifery Education Ingrid

Darmann-Finck, Karin Reiber, 2021-09-01
This book provides a review of central contributions from a variety of countries and is intended to enhance and expand the national professional dialogue on curricula in nursing and midwifery education
All questions of a general nature related to the topic of curricula are dealt within the framework of this internationally oriented anthology
Though the contributions may address challenges concerning curriculum work in a specific country they have been selected and structured to ensure their applicability to other countries
The book's main goals are to highlight the various phases and aspects of curriculum development and to offer a broad international perspective on the topic
It provides an overview of the international status quo of the theory development and seeks to promote an ongoing international discussion and cooperation in curriculum work in nursing and midwifery education When there are major changes in nursing and midwifery care nursing and midwifery education has to change too Curricula offer an important basis for shaping educational processes at vocational schools and universities The discussion of nursing and midwifery curricula is currently primarily taking place at the national level The book shows that the approaches and instruments used in the development construction implementation and evaluation of curricula in nursing and midwifery education in different countries relate to very similar theoretical foundations This finding can be seen as a confirmation of the national approaches Although the book chiefly focuses on nursing education examples from midwifery education are also included so as to foster international and interprofessional cooperation
