Notes on Grief Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie, 2021-05-11 From the globally acclaimed best selling novelist and author of We Should All Be Feminists a timely and deeply personal account of the loss of her father With raw eloquence Notes on Grief captures the bewildering messiness of loss in a society that requires serenity when you d rather just scream Grief is impolite Adichie s words put welcome authentic voice to this most universal of emotions which is also one of the most universally avoided The Washington Post Notes on Grief is an exquisite work of meditation remembrance and hope written in the wake of Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie s beloved father s death in the summer of 2020 As the COVID 19 pandemic raged around the world and kept Adichie and her family members separated from one another her father succumbed unexpectedly to complications of kidney failure Expanding on her original New Yorker piece Adichie shares how this loss shook her to her core She writes about being one of the millions of people grieving this year about the familial and cultural dimensions of grief and also about the loneliness and anger that are unavoidable in it With signature precision of language and glittering devastating detail on the page and never without touches of rich honest humor Adichie weaves together her own experience of her father s death with threads of his life story from his remarkable survival during the Biafran war through a long career as a statistics professor into the days of the pandemic in which he d stay connected with his children and grandchildren over video chat from the family home in Abba Nigeria In the compact format of We Should All Be Feminists and Dear Ijeawele Adichie delivers a gem of a book a book that fundamentally connects us to one another as it probes one of the most universal human experiences Notes on Grief is a book for this moment a work readers will treasure and share now more than ever and yet will prove durable and timeless an indispensable addition to Adichie s canon

Middlebrow 2.0 and the Digital Affect Hannah Pardey, 2023-10-15 Middlebrow 2.0 and the Digital Affect investigates the material conditions of producing distributing and consuming the postcolonial in the Internet era Bridging the gap between postcolonial and middlebrow studies the digital humanities and the history of emotions it employs corpus linguistics software to scrutinise more than 15 000 online responses to 20 new Nigerian novels unearthing the patterns of affect that characterise the contemporary digital milieu of literary transmission Building on materialist social constructionist and linguistic approaches to community and emotion the study illustrates how Amazon Goodreads and YouTube capitalise on socially oriented cross border reading practices by creating empathic communities of ethnically diverse yet socially balanced readers who use social media to fashion themselves as emotionally receptive members of a globalising middle class formation

Offering a reproducible method for exploring new forms of postcolonial reader engagement that strengthens the postcolonial analysis of inclusion and exclusion the book shows that the digital mediation of postcolonial literatures functions to appropriate various markers of identity and difference to the standards of bourgeois literary culture The results highlight that the digital literary economy proves inclusive of the postcolonial Other but only with full reserve to middle class norms and values
