Case Studies in Language Curriculum Design John Macalister, I.S.P. Nation, 2013-05-13 Case studies are a powerful pedagogical tool for illuminating constructs and models in real life contexts Covering a wide range of teaching learning contexts and offering in depth analyses of ESL ELT language curriculum design issues this casebook is distinctive and unique in that each case draws on and is clearly linked to a single model presented in Nation and Macalister's Language Curriculum Design www.routledge.com 9780415806060 giving the book a high degree of coherence A short commentary by the editors after each case highlights features of note and or issues arising from it This is a versatile text designed to work as a companion to Language Curriculum Design adding meaning and depth to the model presented there by relating it to a range of applications as a stand alone text or as a resource for language teacher trainees teacher educators practicing teachers program administrators and materials writers in the field

Native-Speakerism Stephanie Ann Houghton, Jérémie Bouchard, 2020-11-13 This book explores native speakerism in modern language teaching and examines the ways in which it has been both resilient and critiqued It provides a range of conceptual tools to situate ideological discourses and processes within educational contexts In turn it discusses the interdiscursive nature of ideologies and the complex ways in which ideologies influence objective and material realities including hiring practices and more broadly speaking unequal distributions of power and resources In closing it considers why the diffusion and consumption of ideological discourses seem to persist despite ongoing critical engagement by researchers and practitioners and proposes alternative paradigms aimed at overcoming the problems posed by the native speaker model in foreign language education Carr V. Koch, 2011

Theoretical and Applied Perspectives on Teaching Foreign Languages in Multilingual Settings Anna Krulatz, Georgios Neokleous, Anne Dahl, 2022-06-21 This book promotes linguistically responsive foreign language teaching practices in multilingual contexts by facilitating a dialogue between teachers and researchers It advances a discussion of how to connect the acquisition of subsequent foreign languages with previous language knowledge to create culturally and linguistically inclusive foreign language classrooms and how to strengthen the connection between research on multilingualism and foreign language teaching practice The chapters present new approaches to foreign language instruction in multilingual settings many of them forged in collaboration between foreign language teachers and researchers of multilingualism The authors report findings of classroom based research including case studies and action research on topics such as the functions and applications of translanguaging in the foreign language classroom the role of learners own languages in teaching additional languages linguistically and culturally inclusive foreign language pedagogies and teacher and learner attitudes to multilingual teaching approaches Technology-Enhanced Learning and Linguistic Diversity Patrick-André Mather, 2020-11-26 Drawing on research and hands on experience this book includes contributions which draw on linguistic research on 2nd and 3rd language acquisition as well as case studies of specific challenges in teaching content

Doing a Master's Dissertation in TESOL and Applied Linguistics Lindy Woodrow, 2019-10-11 Doing a Master's Dissertation in TESOL and Applied Linguistics is a practical guide for master's students tackling research and research writing for the first time. Structured for use in class or as part of an independent study and divided into the four stages of designing, researching, writing up, and submitting a dissertation, this book carefully guides readers from the very beginning of producing a research proposal all the way through to assessment procedures and the provisions for resubmission. It covers publishing your dissertation and applying for higher research degrees, including funding addresses. It covers all the most fundamental concerns students have about master's dissertations, including how to choose a topic and conducting a literature review. It draws upon examples from master's dissertations from the UK, US, and Australia and provides numerous how-to tables and checklists and includes activities and resources to facilitate master's research and dissertation writing, as well as FAQs and solutions at the end of each chapter. Tailor-made for MA students in TESOL or Applied Linguistics, this book is essential reading for students on these degrees around the world, as well as for their supervisors and programme directors.
