

Juxtaposes "Chartered"

William Blake
(1757-1827)

written from his own experience (autobiographical)
William Blake didn't have money which means it helped him see the negatives in class of that time in London.

London

Impressions of ownership

Sounds purposeless which could reflect how he's powerless

- 1 I wander through each chartered street
- 2 Near where the chartered Thames does flow
- 3 And mark in every face I meet
- 4 Marks of weakness, marks of woe

"Chartered" meaning to document, it's a metaphor for the prison-like situation.
Even powerful, natural features like the River Thames are under human control and effected by the city's problems.
Every person is effected by society & poverty, could be physical, emotional & mental suffering

- 5 In every cry of every man,
In every infamy of every man,
In every infamy, in every ban,
The mind-forged manacles I hear:

Repetition of "every" shows the scale of suffering.
People's mindset traps them in poverty.
"manacles" - old fashioned handcuffs. Represents handcuffs of the mind links to industrial revolution and how society were not fair

- 10 How the chimney-sweeper's cry
Every blackning church appalls,
And the hapless soldier's sigh
Runs in blood down palace walls.

Children used as slaves for no money, helped build the London we know today.

- ↳ Blames monarchy for war.
- But most through midnight streets I hear
How the youthful harlot's curse

Juxtaposition - Religious imagery - The church is being abandoned and not doing anything to help. - loss of hope.
French revolution

- 15 Blasts the new-born infant's tear,
And blights with plagues the marriage hearse.

A new-born's innocence is immediately taken away - Damaged by society
Oxymoron - Links the happiness of marriage with the sadness of death. Suggests society has destroyed everything, nothing pure and innocent remains.

Lots of disease that's uncontrollable and destined to effect. Lots of people individually giving them all a voice they didn't have back then.

→ Onomatopoeia of the words 'cry', 'sigh', 'curse', help us to hear the sounds he was experiencing

→ Back then not many people knew about the poem, the rich didn't want the public to see London in a negative way, it could take their power away from them.

→ Division between classes 'man' is mentioned before 'infant'

↳ Don't want society's mindset to change.

"London" by William Blake. Poem Analysis and Interpretation Simon Essig, 2021-06-21 Essay from the year 2020 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 0 University of Tübingen Englisch Seminar course Introduction to Literary Studies language English abstract London is a poem by William Blake published in 1794 in his work Songs of Experience The poet engraver and craftsman was born in 1757 in London where he spent almost his entire life He published his poems engraved in a script embellished with illustrations Blake was known as a non conformist which refers to a religious group that had separated from the Church of England and that was critical to the government The poet and his work are part of the early Romantic period which is characterized by the rejection of the ideals values and beliefs of classicism and neoclassicism such as restraint emotionality or objectivity Instead a freer and more subjective expression of passion pathos and personal feelings was pursued Furthermore Romantic thoughts proceeded social and political reactions against oppression and the stereotypes of Christian thinking The lyrical I in London describes his or her impressions and his individual experience while walking through the streets of the city of London The lyric person as a wanderer perceives on his journey many negative realities Strong and dramatic expressions with destructive connotations were used by Blake to create a melancholic and sorrowful atmosphere of London's streets marks of weakness and woe cry fear ban sigh blood blights and plagues The capital city and its inhabitants were found in a terrible condition of child labor war and prostitution William Blake's "London" - An Interpretation Samir Mazarweh, 2010-12-19 Seminar paper from the year 2010 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 7 University of Heidelberg Anglistik course Proseminar 1 London language English abstract This paper tries to provide an insight into the analysis of 18th century author William Blake's poem London Comments from Blake experts like the following from Edward Thompson make this task appear easy He said London is among the most lucid and instantly available of the Songs of Experience On the one hand I agree to this statement The poem itself is easy to understand not much background information about the author's life his visions and his complete works is required to grasp the message However an analysis has to provide more than just make the message of a poem understandable It should inter alia deal with the circumstances the author lived in the work of which the poem is part of and last but not least the stylistic devices and linguistic images used in this piece of art In the case of London this has been done by professionals many times a fact leading us to another important point that makes the task appear easier than it actually is The mass of biographies comments analyses and criticisms that have been written about Blake and his works The advantage is obvious Every line of London has been discussed and commented on and all that must be done is find adequate information At the same time this amount of literature presents many different approaches to analyse the poem too many to introduce them in a seminar paper Hence this assignment tries to show a few aspects only After introducing the author and the Songs of Innocence and of Experience briefly it follows a short summary of the poem and an overview of the stylistic devices The Cultures of Radical Christianity Robert Rix, 2007-01-01 This study traces the links between William Blake's ideas and radical Christian cultures in late eighteenth century England. A detailed and historically grounded study of a key literary figure, this book should appeal to Blake scholars and historians with an interest in the radical and religious culture of late eighteenth and early nineteenth century England. New research on Blake's links to and reaction against the Swedenborg New Church make this study a valuable addition to scholarship in this area.

The Iconography of Job Through the Centuries Samuel L. Terrien, 1996 Do artists who deal with biblical scenes study the texts that inspire them? At the same time do scholars pay attention to artists as biblical interpreters? Eminent biblical scholar Samuel Terrien seeks to answer these questions in this first ever comprehensive survey of Jobian iconography from the third century to modern times. Through an analysis of the varying depictions of Job he finds that artists were not usually subservient to directives of religious authorities; rather they often contradicted or preceded the exegetical trends of these commentators. Terrien has selected more than 150 masterpieces from the approximate 800 images of Job that have escaped oblivion. His vast knowledge of the biblical text illumines the rich discussion which ranges over artistic medium and time from the fresco of the Dura Europos synagogue, the miniatures of the Patmos manuscript, the Doge Dandolo mosaic of the San Marco Baptistery in Venice, the mercy seats of Champeaux en Brie, the Sacra Allegoria of Giovanni Bellini in Florence, and Albrecht Dürer's Jabach Altarpiece in Cologne and Frankfurt to the mystery soldier in Salvator Rosae, Job in the Uffizi, and the Job Geometricized la Cimabue by Marc Chagall in St Paul de Vence. This rich interdisciplinary work reveals for the first time that Jobian artists saw in the ancient hero not only the prophet of a new life or the model of revolt and faith, but also and surprisingly the intercessor of sexual reprobates, the patron saint of musicians, and in modern times the existential man.
