

The cover of the textbook features a large, scenic photograph of a multi-arched steel truss bridge spanning a wide river. The bridge is set against a backdrop of rolling green hills and mountains under a blue sky with scattered white clouds. In the top left corner, there is a graphic of two overlapping globes showing Earth's continents and oceans. A thick yellow diagonal line runs across the top of the cover. The title 'GEOLOGY' is printed vertically in large white letters on a black background on the left side.
