the influences and pressures of the marketplace on this genre which this volume contends has been both gatekeeper as well as a significant force in shaping the production and consumption of this literature Epistolarity and World Literature, 1980-2010 Rachel Bower, 2017-09-29 This book examines the striking resurgence of the literary letter at the end of the long twentieth century It explores how authors returned to epistolary conventions to create dialogue across national linguistic and cultural borders and repositions a range of contemporary and postcolonial authors never considered together before including Monica Ali John Berger Amitav Ghosh Michael Ondaatje and Alice Walker Through a series of situated readings the book shows how the return to epistolarity is underpinned by ideals relating to dialogue and human connection Several of the works use letters to present non anglophone material to the anglophone reader Others use letters to challenge policed borders the prison occupied territory the nation state Elsewhere letters are used to connect correspondents in different cultural and linguistic contexts Common to all of the works considered in this book is the appeal that they make to us as readers and the responsibility they place on us to respond to this address By taking the epistle as its starting point and pursuing Auerbach's speculative ideal of weltliteratur this book turns away from the dominant trend of distant reading in world literature and shows that it is in the close situated analysis of form and composition that the concept of world literature emerges most clearly This study seeks to re think the ways in which we read world literature and shows how the literary letter in old and new forms speaks powerfully again in this period

Writing Diaspora Yasmin Hussain, 2005 Issues of cultural hybridity diaspora and identity are central to debates on ethnicity and race and over the past decade have framed many theoretical debates in sociology cultural studies and literary studies However these ideas are all too often considered at a purely theoretical level In this book Yasmin Hussain uses these ideas to explore cultural production by British South Asian women including Monica Ali Meera Syal and Gurinder Chadha Hussain provides a sociological analysis of the contexts and experiences of the British South Asian community discussing key concerns that emerge within the work of this new generation of women writers and which express more widespread debates within the community In particular these authors address issues of individual and group identity and the ways in which these are affected by ethnicity and gender Hussain argues that in exploring the different dimensions of their cultural heritage the authors she surveys have created changes within the meaning of the diasporic identity articulating a challenge to the notion of Asianness as a homogenous and simple category In her examination of the process through which a hybridized diasporic culture has come into being she offers an important contribution to some of the key questions in recent sociological and cultural theory

Book Review Digest, 1915 The Influence of the 9/11 novel on Muslim Writing Matthias Dickert, 2017-10-11 Scientific Essay from the year 2017 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Literature Works Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz language English abstract

Since 9 11 many Muslims struggle with their identity and are exposed to xenophobia violence vicious defamation harassment or displacement In short the notion Muslim in relation to that day has become a stigma It is against this background and the post traumatic aftermath of September 11 2001 where many novelists disposing of a Muslim background wrote their novels The logical consequence from this was that Muslim writing as such has become more complex stressing the standpoints of hearer and teller as elements of distortion Interesting though is the fact that some novels dealing with Islam and Muslim characters have taken up and used the Oriental stereotypes where Muslims are according to Said seen as either oil suppliers or potential terrorists For a long time Muslim characters in literature have been connected to this negative image which Said also labels as other and Spivak as subaltern The hybrid in which many Muslim characters are often set is also still equated with the exotic thus ignoring the energy of Bhabha s term and its positive realizations in fiction It is therefore one aim of this essay to throw light on this matter and to shortly reflect the present influence of 9 11 on Muslim writing Guess Again
