CASE STUDY ASSESSMENT: CHAPTER ONE By David F. Dudley Week #1 January 16, 2009 CASE STUDY ASSESSMENT: CHAPTER ONE Introduction This document presents my opinions about the cases presented in (Boatright, R. , John (2003). Ethics and the Conduct of Business. Upper Saddle River, NJ: Prentice Hall. ) and articles from (Ambrose, John (2009, January 16). My Own Opinion, The Washington Case#1. 1: Johnson & Johnson: The Tylenol Crisis This case study was a powerful example to illustrate the presence of ethics within the business environment today and the impacts they can have on not just shareholder's earnings, but on the public as a whole. First, we were presented with a shocking situation. Seven people had died in January of 1982 from taking cyanide-laced capsules of Extra-Strength Tylenol.

The news made national headlines, and the CEO of Johnson & Johnson, James Burke had to make some swift decisions about how the company was going to handle this problem. What added insult to injury, was that Extra-Strength Tylenol provided Johnson & Johnson with a large piece of the company's total profits which amounted to seventeen percent. The company was now in risk of losing this income at the hands of someone sabotaging their product line and the public was in danger if they consumed it. The company had to find out what the cause was and how to stop it. Had James Burke not acted swiftly, more people were at risk of being harmed and Johnson & Johnson could be looking at disastrous failure. By adhering to the Company Credo and pulling the product, he determined that the brand name could be saved if Johnson & Johnson restored public confidence by doing what was in the best interest for the public. This was the ethical decision that saved lives and the company. Case #1. 2. The Sales Rep

Workplace Ethics Case Study

The case study titled "The Sales Rep" presents us with an interesting dilemma that forces one to think about how they would act if confronted with a personal choice on whether or not they should fully disclose to a potential client factors that could cost them money or the business-person a sale. Tell the truth or lie? This is the question that can be found when getting down to the crux of this situation. Sometimes, withholding the truth is as bad as telling an untruth. On one hand, the sales representative has a chance to close a multimillion-dollar deal for an office system to be installed. However, they are not sure that the subsequent deliveries can be made on time due to issues stemming from the manufacturer. Since delays in delivering and installing the system could be costly to the client, the sales representative could potentially lose the sale if he divulges this information to the client pending their reaction to
