UML 2002 - The Unified Modeling Language: Model Engineering, Concepts, and Tools Jean-Marc Jezequel, Heinrich Hussman, Stephen Cook, 2003-08-02 Five years on from its adoption in 1997 by the Object Management Group OMG the Unified Modeling Language is the de facto standard for creating a grammatic models of software systems More than 100 books have been written about UML and it is taught to students throughout the world The definition of UML version 2 is well under way and should be largely completed within the year This will not only improve and enhance UML itself including standard facilities for diagram interchange but also make it fully integrated with other modeling technologies from the OMG such as Meta Object Facility MOF and XML Metadata Interchange XMI The Object Constraint Language which has become an important vehicle for communicating detailed insights between UML researchers and practitioners will have a much expanded specification and be better integrated with the UML The popularity of UML signifies the possibility of a shift of immense proportions in the practice of software development at least comparable to the shift from the use of assembly language to third generation or high level programming languages We dream of describing the behavior of software systems in terms of models closely related to the needs of the enterprise being served and being able to routinely translate these models automatically into executing programs on distributed computing systems The OMG is promoting Model Driven Architecture MDA as a significant step towards this vision and the MDA concept has received considerable support within the IT industry

Human-Computer Interaction Steve Howard,Judy Hammond,Gitte Lindgaard,2013-06-05 The theme of the 1997 INTERACT conference Discovering New Worlds ofHCI signals major changes that are taking place with the expansion of new technologies into fresh areas of work and leisure throughout the world and new pervasive powerful systems based on multimedia and the internet HCI has a vital role to play in these new worlds to ensure that people using the new technologies are empowered rather than subjugated to the technology that they increasingly have to use In addition outcomes from HCI research studies over the past 20 years are now finding their way into many organisations and helping to improve and enhance work practices These factors have strongly influenced the INTERACT 97 Committee when creating the conference programme with the result that besides the more traditional HCI research and education focus found in previous INTERACT conferences one strand of the 1997 conference has been devoted to industry and another to multimedia The growth in the IFIP TC13 committee itself reflects the expansion ofHCI into new worlds Membership ofIFIP TC13 has risen to now include representatives of 24 IFIP member country societies from many parts of the world In 1997 IFIP TC13 breaks new ground by holding its sixth INTERACT conference in the Asia Pacific region This is a significant departure from previous INTERACT conferences that were all held in Europe and is especially important for the Asia Pacific region as HCI expands beyond its traditional base
