Learning Canadian Criminal Law:

Learning Canadian Criminal Law Don Stuart, Stephen Gerard Coughlan, R. J. Delisle, 2009      Learning Canadian Criminal Law, 2012 This comprehensive text provides vital background information and a coherent structure for understanding the law Focusing on the substantive aspects of the criminal justice system and the trial context this casebook covers the adversary system how the elements of crime are proven defences and sentencing practices Features include a concentration on the main sources including the Criminal Code key judicial decisions and critical review judicious editing of the increasingly lengthy reasons for judgment in major cases an extended introductory section and problems based on actual decisions or designed to provoke thought on current social issues Pub desc      Critical Conversations in Canadian Public Law Jena McGill, Karen Drake, Kyle Kirkup, Anne Levesque, Joshua Sealy-Harrington, 2025-11-11 Critical Conversations in Canadian Public Law is a groundbreaking open access collection of peer reviewed essays showcasing interdisciplinary thinking on topical public law issues at the forefront of the evolving relationship between state and society In Canada this relationship is undergoing a period of significant reinvention as evidenced for example by the movements for reconciliation decolonization and Indigenization the calls to recognize and remedy systemic racism in institutions including police forces and the recent extension of human rights protections to prohibit discrimination based on gender identity or expression These examples reveal that we are experiencing a moment where claims that challenge the normative foundations of the discipline of public law are being made in real time claims about citizenship rights and access to resources and benefits claims about what substantive and procedural fairness look like and for whom claims about the obligations and limits of the state to proactively address both historical and current injustices and challenges to the underlying assumptions about the state itself Critical Conversations in Canadian Public Law highlights the intersections of critical perspectives including intersectional approaches to decolonial and Indigenous legal theory Indigenous constitutionalisms critical race theory feminisms queer theory and critical disability theory and public law topics broadly defined This collection bridges the divide between traditional largely liberal public law scholarship and critical perspectives by centring critical theories as not only relevant but imperative to robust fully contextualized understandings of contemporary public law challenges      Translating Guilt Cassandra Steer, 2017-02-26 This book seeks to understand how and why we should hold leaders responsible for the collective mass atrocities that are committed in times of conflict It attempts to untangle the debates on modes of liability in international criminal law ICL that have become truly complex over the last twenty years and to provide a way to identify the most appropriate model for leadership liability A unique comparative theory of ICL is offered which clarifies the way in which ICL develops as a patchwork of different domestic criminal law notions This theory forms the basis for the comparison of some influential domestic criminal law systems with a view to understanding the policy and cultural reasons for their differences There is a particular focus on the background of the German law which has influenced the International Criminal Court so much recently This helps to understand and seek a solution to the current impasses in the debates on which model of liability should be applied An entire chapter of the book is devoted to considering why leaders should be held responsible for crimes committed by their subordinates from legal moral and pragmatic perspectives The moral responsibility of leaders is translated into criminal liability and the different domestic models of liability are translated to the international context in such a way as to appeal to advanced students of ICL academics and practitioners who want to understand the complexities of leadership liability in international criminal law today and identify the best way to approach it Cassandra Steer is Executive Director of Women in International Security Canada and Junior Wainwright Fellow at McGill University Canada She holds a Ph D in Law from the University of Amsterdam The Netherlands An Introduction to Criminal Law in Context J.
