Explorations in Early Southeast Asian History Kenneth R. Hall,John K. Whitmore,1976      Explorations in Southeast Asian Studies ,2004      New Perspectives on the History and Historiography of Southeast Asia Michael Arthur Aung-Thwin,Kenneth Hall,2011-05-13 Using a unique old new treatment this book presents new perspectives on several important topics in Southeast Asian history and historiography Based on original primary research it reinterprets and revises several long held conventional views in the field covering the period from the classical age to the twentieth century Chapters share the approach to Southeast Asian history and historiography namely giving agency to Southeast Asia in all research analysis writing and interpretation The book honours John K Whitmore a senior historian in the field of Southeast Asian history today by demonstrating the scope and breadth of the scholar's influence on two generations of historians trained in the West. In addition to providing new information and insights on the field of Southeast Asia, this book stimulates new debate on conventional ideas, evidence, and approaches to its teaching, research, and understanding. It addresses and in many cases revises specific, critically important topics in Southeast Asian history on which much conventional knowledge of Southeast Asia has long been based. It is of interest to scholars of Southeast Asian Studies as well as Asian History.

Self and Society in Southeast Asian Fiction Thelma B.

Kintanar, 1988. The book begins with a brief survey of the development of modern fiction in Southeast Asia. The fiction of five ASEAN countries—Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, Singapore, and Thailand—is reviewed to analyze the major patterns in the relationship between the individual and his society as shown in the following themes: the individual and his identities, alienation and exile, social class, and the individual and commitment.
