Issues In Islamic Law:

Modern Challenges to Islamic Law Shaheen Sardar Ali, 2016-10-06 The diversity of interpretation within Islamic legal traditions can be challenging for those working within this field of study Using a distinctly contextual approach this book addresses such challenges by combining theoretical perspectives on Islamic law with insight into how local understandings impact on the application of law in Muslim daily life Engaging with topics as diverse as Islamic constitutionalism Islamic finance human rights and internet fatawa Shaheen Sardar Ali provides an invaluable resource for scholars students and practitioners alike by exploring exactly what constitutes Islamic law in the contemporary world Useful examples case studies a glossary of terms and the author's personal reflections accompany traditional academic critique and together offer the reader a unique and discerning discussion of Islamic law in practice

The Objectives of Islamic Law Rumees Ahmed, Idris Nassery, Muna Tatari, 2020-07-06 Scholars thinkers and activists around the world are paying increasing attention to a legal reform method that promises to revolutionize the way people think about Islamic law Known as The Objectives of the Shari'a maqā'id al-sharī'a the theory offers a way to derive and apply new Islamic laws using an ancient methodology The theory identifies core objectives that underlie Islamic law and then looks at inherited Islamic laws to see whether they meet those objectives According to the maqā'id theory historical Islamic laws that meet their objectives should be retained and those that do not no matter how entrenched in practice or embedded in texts should be discarded or reformed Recently several scholars have questioned the maqā'id theory arguing that it is designed not to reform laws but to support existing power structures They warn that adopting the maqā'id wholesale would set the reform project back ensuring that inherited Islamic laws are never fully reformed to agree with contemporary values like gender egalitarianism and universal human rights

The Objectives of Islamic Law: The Promises and Challenges of the Maqā'id al-Sharī'a captures the ongoing debate between proponents and skeptics of the maqā'id theory It raises some of the most important issues in Islamic legal debates today and lays out visions for the future of Islamic law

Islamic Law and the Challenges of Modernity Yvonne Yazbeck Haddad, Barbara Freyer Stowasser, 2004-03-27 Since Europeans first colonized Arab lands in the 19th century they have been pressing to have the area's indigenous laws and legal systems accord with Western models Although most Arab states now have national codes of law that reflect Western influence fierce internal struggles continue over how to interpret Islamic law particularly in the areas of gender and family From different geographical and ideological points across the contemporary Arab world Haddad and Stowasser demonstrate the range of views on just what Islam's legal heritage in the region should be For either law or religion classes Islamic Law and the Challenges of Modernity provides the broad historical overview and particular cases needed to understand this contentious issue

Contemporary Issues in Islamic Law, Economics and Finance Flavia Cortelezzi, Alessandro Ferrari, 2022-08-12 This book explores how Islam can impact the structures and performance of firms financial institutions and capital markets across a range of countries and industries The Islamic finance

industry represents an important reality not only because of the oil wealth of the Gulf states which have fueled demand for such financial services but also for an increased demand from a growing Muslim population in the West that aspires to express a full and all inclusive religious identity The increased demand for Muslim financial institutions has prompted Western non Islamic firms to begin providing these services in an interesting effort of acculturation to the new plural scenario By adopting a multidisciplinary approach which also takes into account the theological legal and geopolitical framework the book offers a comprehensive picture of Islamic financial tools contracts and business opportunities Drawing on different fields of expertise it deals with various themes such as the theological roots of Islamic economics and finance and its geopolitical impact the EU policy of cooperation with MENA and GCC countries the instruments of Islamic finance its legal principle and ability to become an instrument for enhancing business opportunities the functioning of Islamic banks the development of capital markets within a financial model influenced by religious constraints and finally the new relationships of this religious financial system with Western legal systems The book thus provides a complete and extensive overview of the practice of Islamic finance through the lenses offered by studies of economics and management Providing a careful analysis and an integrated framework of geo economic and political issues the book will be a valuable resource for academics researchers and professionals in International Business Entrepreneurship and Small Business Management Law and Religion and Intercultural Studies

Islamic Law and Contemporary Issues Ahmad Zaki Yamani,1968

Islamic Law in Malaysia Adnan Trakic,Hanifah Haydar Ali Tajuddin,2021-03-16 This book examines the challenges of the implementation of Islamic law in Malaysia Malaysia is a pertinent jurisdiction to explore such challenges given its global focus colonial history and institutions and the intersection of the Shari ah and secularism multiculturalism The resultant implementation challenges are underpinned by three factors that make Malaysia an important jurisdiction for those interested in understanding the place of Islamic law in the global context First Malaysia is often considered as a model Islamic country Islamic law is a source of law in Malaysia The Islamic law legal system in Malaysia operates in parallel with a common law legal system. The two systems of law generally are in harmony with one another. Nevertheless, occasional cross-jurisdictional issues do arise, and when they do, the Malaysian judiciary has been quite efficient in solving them. The Malaysian experience in maintaining such harmony between the two legal systems provides lessons for a number of countries facing such challenges.

Second, Malaysia has a developed Shariah court system that interprets and applies Islamic law predominantly based on the Shafi'i school of thought. While for the most part the approach has been successful, there have been times when the implementation of the law has raised concerns as to the compatibility of Islamic law with modern principles of human rights and common law-based values.

Third, there have been cases where Islamic law implementation in Malaysia has gained global attention due to the potential for wider international implications. To do justice to this complex area, the book calls on scholars and practitioners who have the necessary expertise in Islamic law and its implementation. As such, this book provides lessons and direction for other countries that operate a dual system of secular and Islamic laws.

Shariah Law Mohammad Hashim Kamali, 2017-07-06

Shariah law is a subject that is misunderstood and misrepresented by many in the West. More than simply a system of law, it is concerned with a set of values and rules that are essential to the understanding and practice of Islam. In this volume, Mohammad Hashim Kamali, a world-renowned expert on Shariah, adopts a question and answer format to provide a clear introduction to its most salient aspects. Extending from the sources of Shariah in the Qur'an, hadith, and the legal maxims of Islamic law to the discussion of issues such as freedom of religion, gender equality, and human rights, Shariah Law: Questions and Answers connects the theoretical aspects of the law with how it is applied in the world today. At once scholarly and accessible, it is sure to be a vital resource for students, teachers, and general readers, addressing as it does a range of contemporary concerns including jihad, democracy, the environment, genetic engineering, human cloning, euthanasia, and abortion.

Very Short Introductions

Brilliant, sharp, inspiring. Islamic law is one of the major legal systems in the world today, yet it is often misunderstood, particularly in the West. It is applicable in different forms as part of state law in countries across the Middle East, Asia, and Africa, and also has a strong influence on Muslim communities throughout the Western world. This Very Short Introduction provides an authoritative perspective on the evolution and nature of Islamic law. Mashood A. Baderin considers its theory, covering the history and nature of Islamic jurisprudence, its scope covering Family Law, Inheritance Law, Financial Law, Penal Law, and International Law, and finally its practice. He takes into account both classical and modern scholarly perspectives in examining the various facets of Islamic law to provide an overview of this key legal system.

ABOUT THE SERIES

The Very Short Introductions series from Oxford University Press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area. These pocket-sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly. Our expert authors combine facts, analysis, perspective, new ideas, and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable.
