The Moon

The Moon is our celestial friend that lights up the night sky. It is not a planet but a natural satellite that orbits Earth. The Moon has different phases, like full moon, half moon, and crescent moon, which happen because of how sunlight shines on its surface. When the Moon is full, it looks like a bright, round circle!

The Moon doesn't have air or water, so no living things can survive there. It's covered in craters, which are like big dents, and mountains. The Moon also influences the tides in our oceans because of its gravitational pull.

People have always been fascinated by the Moon and even landed spacecraft on its surface. Imagine standing on the Moon – you would see Earth in the sky just like we see the Moon from our planet!

1. What is the Moon?

2. What causes different phases of the Moon?

3. Can living things survive on the Moon? Why or why not?

4. What influences the tides in our oceans?

5. What can you see from the Moon's surface?

Bridges and Barriers Eddie Williams, 2006 Recent decades have seen sub Saharan Africa decline in both economic and human terms The rich North has responded with a barrage of well publicized initiatives from pop concerts to international commitments on debt relief aid trade and good governance Among the complex of factors necessary to sustain economic and human development education receives little media coverage although it is crucial However education must be effective This book argues that in Anglophone Africa education is not effective because of the use of English rather than children s first languages both as the medium of instruction and also as the language in which children are first taught to read Research is presented from Malawi and Zambia countries with contrasting language policies using evidence from tests in English and African languages small group discussions and classroom observation The findings show that English medium policies in Africa do not give students any advantage in English over first language policies while the use of English discriminates against girls and rural children The book concludes that much education in Africa is a barrier rather than a bridge to learning because of the prevailing language ideology which has resulted in massive over estimation of the value of English While appropriate language policies alone will not solve education and development difficulties in Africa they do have a positive contribution to make The evidence presented here suggests they are failing to make that contribution

Reading Literacy at Junior Secondary School Level in Zimbabwe Rosemary Moyana,2000 Issues dealt with in this study of democracy in Africa include underdevelopment and economic marginality ethnic consciousness and the nature of political power in Africa A true African democracy Ake argues is both a second independence and a deep need for self realisation The late distinguished scholar outlines in a sweeping continental survey how the democratic commitment has transformed Africa s legacy of dictatorship military regimes and single party rule He also demonstrates how cleverly conservative autocrats have spoken the democratic message and subverted its promise The danger of trivialising democracy into successive multi party elections is now very real and the books spells out the hazards facing nascent democratic movements
