What Matters for Health and Happiness Among the Older Adults in Asia Nai Peng Tey, Halimah Awang, Shekhar Chauhan, 2024-03-11 People want to live a healthy and happy later life A large body of literature shows the close association between health status and happiness and between health and active engagement in work exercise and social and religious activities However the causation between the two can run both ways and it is difficult to determine the causal effect with cross sectional data Various authors have shown the significant influence of socioeconomic factors and human needs on older people s health status and happiness A better understanding of the factors affecting healthy and happy aging is essential for policymaking to improve the well being of older people The availability of data from HRS family studies in several Asian countries CHARLS in China LASI in India JSTAR in Japan KLoSA in Korea IFLS in Indonesia HART in Thailand MARS in Malaysia and Longitudinal Study of Ageing and Health in Viet Nam see Gateway to Global Aging Data provides an excellent opportunity for researchers to examine factors affecting health and happiness among older adults within and across Asian countries This research topic aims to gather papers that investigate the socioeconomic attitudinal and behavioural factors affecting the health status and happiness life satisfaction of older adults in Asia The dependent variables may include physical health mental health disability ADL IADL cognitive functioning self rated health health expenditure feeling of happiness and life satisfaction The independent variables may be age gender marital status place of residence educational level active engagement work exercise social and religious activities family and social relationship and support outlook in life smoking drinking and access to and utilization of healthcare services etc Manuscripts can be based on individual countries or cross country analysis preferably using the panel data to establish the causal effects of the independent variables on the dependent variables Workplace Health Promotion, 2nd edition Danijela Gasevic, Leah Okenwa-Emegwa, 2023-01-09 Work related factors have implications for health and wellbeing Due to the amount of time spent at the workplace and the impact of work on health over an individual s life course the workplace has evolved as an important arena for population health promotion Risk factors within the physical and psychosocial working environment as well as inadequate organizational support are associated with increasing work related health problems which result in psychosocial and economic implications for the individual the family the organization and the society Recent estimates revealed an increasing level of sickness absence due to work related factors among others In recognition of the importance of worker health and a healthy working life but also in line with numerous occupational health goals many organisations set aside significant amounts of financial resources annually to promote work well being However studies have shown that despite this positive disposition among employers both employee participation and the impact of such programs remain minimal According to the Ottawa declaration for health promotion and the Luxembourg declaration for Workplace Health Promotion WHP WHP should be strategic It is recommended that WHP be conducted in a systematic and continuous process of needs analysis priority setting planning implementation and evaluation Unfortunately available studies show that many companies have policies currently in place but lack knowledge regarding proper implementation and evaluation The foregoing phenomenon raises questions regarding the level of knowledge of and attitudes towards WHP among people in management positions This Research Topic aims to address factors affecting workplace health promotion What does WHP mean for employers What forms of WHP packages exist Is there evaluation and follow up of such interventions What are the barriers and facilitators relating to the uptake of WHP interventions among employees Do people in relevant managerial positions possess adequate knowledge regarding WHP Manuscripts that explore factors crucial for WHP including individual and organizational level factors crucial for WHP are welcomed Manuscripts on barriers evidence based interventions best practices analysis of existing policy documents and those with a life course perspective etc are also welcomed Manuscripts can be of national international and global perspectives

Mindfulness, Mind-body Exercises, and Health Promotion Guodong Zhang, Yang Cao, Zi Yan,2025-02-14 High intensity sports and physical exercise have been linked to various health benefits However when it comes to increasing longevity these activities may not be an ideal option for the general population Mind body exercise which combines physical exercise with mindfulness may be more effective in promoting and restoring health especially for those with chronic symptoms or poor health conditions Many mind body exercises such as Taichi Qigong Chan Chuang and Yoga have their roots in Eastern cultures They have gained popularity around the world and became a new fashion in the post COVID 19 era These exercises typically help practitioners shift their focus from the outside world past or future to the present moment through gentle body movements Mind body exercises emphasize the body s innate ability to heal itself By disconnecting from the noisy outside world the body is given the opportunity to heal This aligns with the classic belief in Chinese medicine that the body itself is the best medicine Current Index to Journals in Education ,2002

International Research Handbook on Values Education and Student Wellbeing Terence Lovat, Ron

Toomey, Neville Clement, 2010-08-05 Informed by the most up to date research from around the world as well as examples of good practice this handbook analyzes values education in the context of a range of school based measures associated with student wellbeing These include social emotional moral and spiritual growth elements that seem to be present where intellectual advancement and academic achievement are being maximized This text comes as values education widens in scope from being concerned with morality ethics civics and citizenship to a broader definition synonymous with a holistic approach to education in general This expanded purview is frequently described as pedagogy relating to values and wellbeing This contemporary understanding of values education or values and wellbeing pedagogy fits well with recent neuroscience research This has shown that notions of cognition or intellect are far more intertwined with social and emotional growth than earlier educational paradigms have allowed for In other words the best laid plans about the technical aspects of pedagogy are bound to fail unless the growth of the whole person social emotional moral spiritual and intellectual is the pedagogical target Teachers and educationalists will find that this handbook provides evidence culled from both research and practice of the beneficial effects of such a values and wellbeing pedagogy Small Business Sourcebook ,2005 A guide to the information services and sources provided to 100 types of small business by associations consultants educational programs franchisers government agencies reference works statisticians suppliers trade shows and venture capital firms Play Therapy Supervision Staci L.
